HOOVER ATTACK WINS APPLAUSE

Nation Rallies to Support of "Fighting President"

Navy Propaganda Inquiry by Senate Due at Once

Tariff Bill Faces Delay to Permit Investigation

The Senate naval group are enrolled in the "big Navy" bloc all are as hostile as the President to propaganda, which may be financed by persons or corporations having a pecuniary interest in large armament outlays. Officers of the three shipbuilding concerns involved—the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation and the American Brown-Boveri Electric Corporation—all have expressed in the last twenty-four hours a willingness to comply with the President's request and make their position clear to the public. It is assumed that they will have no objection to doing so before the Senate committee.

SHEARER TO BE HEARD

William B. Shearer, storm center of the whole incident, also seems willing to talk concerning the background of the suit he has brought against these three companies seeking $250,000 for "services rendered" in stirring up agitation here and abroad for larger naval appropriations. The expectation is that the Naval Committee will vote to hold public hearings, with Shearer as the first witness.

Before his committee meets Senator Hale is expected to confer with Atty-Gen. Mitchell, who has been instructed by the President to investigate the affair and "consider what action we can take." At first glance, Washington is somewhat uncertain as to the part the Department of Justice could play. There apparently is nothing illegal about such activities as Shearer admits, and it is not improbable that the President drew the Attorney-General into the affair as an incentive to the Senate to get busy.

Republican leaders of the Senate are wondering what effect this new sharp-up will have on their plans for the session which begins in earnest on Monday. They had hoped to provide the Senate-Navy tariff bill with the right of way and to exclude other subjects from consideration. By such a concentration the leaders are possibilities of jamming the tariff through before the regular session meets in December. If a naval debate should intrude the tariff would encounter another of those exasperating delays which have marked its progress through the legislative mill since last January.

CHANCE FOR DELAY

Some of the most outspoken of the anti-tariff coalition also happen to be violently opposed to additional naval construction. When the Shearer-criticism bill was introduced last winter its principal critics were Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa and Pranger of North Dakota on the Republican side of the chamber, and King of Utah and Harrison of Mississippi among the Democrats. These men now are leading the fight against the tariff.

SHEARER BACKER GROUP VARIED

Native Sons of California in List that Navy Lobbyists Said He Represented

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—It was recalled here today by newspaper correspondents who attended the 1927 naval arms conference at Geneva that William B. Shearer who was on hand to give them "helpful hints" explained that he represented the Native Sons of California, along with the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company.

bill and while all disclaim any intention to filibuster, are not blind to the possibilities for delay which are wrapped up in the naval situation.

If Senator King now should bring up his resolution "legalizing" the President's action in suspending Shearer's construction it would be extremely pertinent. While the President was rather suspicious of the King resolution when it first was advanced, he might not now object to a more extensive examination of the part of the Senate.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, who voted for the fifteen cruisers, but who was warmly endorsed by President Hoover's move toward naval reduction, today said that he will work for a thoroughgoing inquiry into the Shearer affair.

PRESIDENT FRAMED

He praised the President for bringing the matter to public attention, saying: "President Hoover is moving in the right direction in seeking to find out the extent of the propaganda emanating from shipbuilders against naval armament reduction and limitation. The President's move should be followed up by an investigation by the Senate Naval Affairs Committee. Incident propaganda on this subject will help to call forcibly to the attention of the American people the extent of the propaganda which is being used to influence governmental action on public questions to the disadvantage of the general public welfare."

Senator Borah, who first called the Shearer's attention to the matter, said that he had for the first time in many months standing shoulder to shoulder with President Hoover. Discussing the situation in general, Borah expressed doubt that the government has any legal redress even if Shearer's assertions can be proved, but an exposure of propaganda methods would have a very lively moral influence, he said.

"I am interested to know," he added, "whether powerful corporations are actually supplying them to influence conferences having to do with naval disarmament and world peace. I think the investigation should go into all ramifications of naval propaganda. If the shipbuilders are striking at peace we ought to know it."

FORD DISCUSSES ROAD NEED

...but could never get any of them spent on roads. After several years it had an inspiration. It established a Ford dealer who sold automobiles to the farmers. There was no trouble about roads after that; they were built everywhere in that section.

"The history of highway building shows that until general use and ownership of automobiles and trucks created a real public demand for better roads, the road-building program went lamely along or did not even get started."

"I suppose the situation in South America is much the same as it was here. They need roads, yes—a network of highways over the continent, and a great road connecting North and South America. These will come with startling rapidity, providing they have something to run on them."

"Of course, if they can get their highways now, or can finance the construction of them, that is one thing, but who would use them? It is not the building, but the use of roads that makes prosperity. The people of South America haven't the automobile idea sufficiently developed to acquire for themselves the cars to run on such highways. But the idea is developing, and that is the best guarantee of roads."

EVANGEL OF PROGRESS

"In large sections of Latin America the economic level must be raised before there can be a general ownership of cars and a demand for modern roads. But ownership of cars tends to raise the economic level because more money is brought to existing industry and the power it possesses to create new ones. Hence, the automobile industry in South America is a true missionary of progress."

"That has been our experience here in the United States. We could have made better roads and highways years before we did, than the people of South America now can. It was the general use of the automobile in this country that forced the highway program. I can't see any better method, particularly for countries where the per capita wealth is much less than it is in the United States, or was in this country before we began extensive highway construction."

"What South America needs—and in this order—is: Industries which will rapidly raise the economic level of the people; automobiles which will be the growing trade and means of the people; then more and more highways, as the public wealth will justify their building."

"It is my conviction that the best thing we manufacturers of automobiles can do for South America at this time is to put automobile and accessory factories to work in South America."

AUTO TRADE BENEFITS

"That would first of all give many thousands of people remunerative work, so that, through their savings, they would purchase property and get in line to contribute something to the general development of the continent."

"It would be, in the second place, a practical education of the people in the varied uses of automobiles and trucks, and the necessary part they play today in the economic life of any country in the world that is really prosperous."

WELL PRISONER RESCUED ALIVE

Entombed Man Conscious When Taken Out

Calls for Water at Moment He Reaches Safety

Legs May Prove Paralyzed; He Will Recover

OTTUMWA (Iowa) Sept. 7. (AP)—Buried alive for forty-two hours thirty-five feet deep in the earth by the caving in of a well, Wilkins Priest today was rescued by the Herculean efforts of hundreds of men.

Priest, numb from cold and partly paralyzed by pressure of sand and stone that sealed him at the bottom of the well, was conscious when taken out through a parallel shaft that had been sunk after it was found impossible to remove the tons of debris that fell over the imprisoned man.

CALLS FOR WATER

The first call of the distressed man was for water, as he had been without food or liquid since the caving in of the well gave way and buried him far below the surface of the earth in damp and perpetual darkness where he was barely able to move his head and hands.

After a casual examination by the county physician who had been with the rescue workers constantly indicated that Priest probably will recover.

Last night, while the force of miners was digging life heavily to complete the secondary shaft, Priest still talked through this tube to those above, but his words were rambling, and he was almost incoherent by the time the supports finished the eight-foot tunnel from the relief shaft to the well and feverishly but carefully dug the enormous mass of debris from the rocks and sand that held him.

TOILED INCREDENTLY

Workers had toiled incessantly since Thursday morning when Priest was buried under rocks and sand and during the thirty-five-foot well crumbled while he was cleaning it.

"Water," gasped Priest as he was carried on a cot through the thirty-foot false shaft which rescuers had dug after it was found impossible to remove the debris from the well. Although his voice was weak, his eyes were open and he apparently was rational, despite his trying ordeal.

It is feared his legs are paralyzed from the pressure of the debris.

as they leap up and rub their heads against one another. Occasionally one will nip someone but not often. They are well trained to leave their food alone until it is thrown to them and a bucket of seal meat can be put down in the tunnel and not a dog will touch it until his share is tossed in front of him. Then they wolf it and if one can get a piece from a neighbor they will grab it and growl over it with their teeth bared. Just far enough apart so that they cannot fight with serious results although sometimes a dog will get loose. When it is tossed in front of him and wait down the tunnel looking for trouble.

The maternity ward is off the ship house and in most of the pups are confined at present because they are getting big enough to fight. At certain times they are sent out to exercise and roam over the camp like a pack of half-wolves. The latest brood of that Lady, is still running loose in the woods. The pups are not better than such small dogs. Lady took a dislike to her quarters one day, however, and moved the whole brood to an empty box, where she thought they would be warmer and more comfortable.

No Medicine On Earth Could Do More, She Says

"My brother and dozens of my friends are taking Sargol on the strength of what it did for me. I don't believe any medicine in the world could have done more for me in a short time."

"For five years my stomach gave me no end of trouble. I became

MRS. RICHARD BROWN

Broadly nervous, weak and generally run down. I was bilious and constipated, and headaches and sleep spells nearly ran me down. Nausea pains in my right shoulder caused me to lose my salary. Could, restless sleep was almost impossible.

"I have taken six bottles of Sargol, and it has honestly proved almost a miracle in what it has done for me. I have enjoyed myself like I do now in years. It digests food, my stomach never gives me one bit of trouble, and I am growing stronger every day. I am mostly free from time to time now. I sleep peacefully, and get up in the morning as refreshed and rested as feeling no more. Every bit of trouble is over and for the first time in years I am really enjoying life."

"Sargol pills completely ended my constipation and biliousness. My liver is in fine condition, my color is healthy, and I never have the slightest trouble with head, when or otherwise any more. These pills are not drastic or upsetting, but are the finest laxative I ever took, and I am forever telling some of my friends all this wonderful treatment did for me."

"The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Richard Brown, 1311 West 11th St., Los Angeles."

"The special Sargol representative at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, is explaining the merits of this revolutionary new medicine to hundreds daily. Sargol may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities."—Advertisement.

Major-General, U. S. M. C.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)

Let your roads delay us if we had to rush from Tien-tsin to Peking to the aid of the Americans there, we had designed and built after considerable experiment a "road" to carry with us. It consisted of a type of extremely heavy wire screen, carried, wound on huge spools, on large trucks.

As the trucks went ahead the screen, automatically unrolled and spread on the ground while another truck, directly behind, dumped the screen down on the ground with a shove hammer, also operating automatically.

In the rear other trucks automatically wound the screen on spools, then moved ahead of the column to repeat the operation when other machines or bad stretches appeared.

MODERN FIERCE DEFENSE
Streets and roads in China are notoriously narrow. We feared our plans for an entirely new method of movement of troops to Peking might miscarry because of the extreme narrowness of the thoroughfares. We must sweep in Tien-tsin; Peking and the town on route. Scores of coolies, with their rickshaws could easily clog the streets and hamper our passage.

To clear the streets that our relief column might get through with greatest speed, and to avoid possible disturbances, we got three tons of native coins for $4000. We put the coins in a motor truck and planned whenever we had to move through mobs to run the truck ahead of the column and let the coins dribble out.

The truck was to have been sent along streets we would not use and the mob would follow to pick up the money. They would be able to ride through empty streets.

MONEY FROM SKY
We sent this truck out on several tests, and sure enough throngs of Chinese hurried after the truck for miles scrapping for small coins.

We had an even more grandiose plan to shoot coins out in the country—with any Chinese troops we might meet on the road. We had 500,000 in Chinese currency (worth about $100,000 of our money). It was all in one, five and ten dollar notes. We had circulars printed in Chinese and in each circular we inclosed little Chinese coins to give them weight.

Our planes, flying ahead of the relief column, were to drop circulars over the troops we passed and then circle away from the road, continuing to drop these coin-weighted circulars to get the troops off the road. We knew the Chinese soldiers would hurry after the fluttering circulars to pick up the coins regardless of any order from their commanders.

The circulars explained that if the soldiers would not molest nor interfere with our troops—which meant they'd no harm, as we were their friends—and would go to my car at the head of the column, they could all their rifles for $2 each and their ammunition for $2 more. All generals and other high officers, the circulars continued, would get $100 "bribe" ($50 in our money) for their swords.

APPEAL TO STOMACH
As a final touch the circulars promised that the entire army would receive a square meal. This was a real appeal, for all Chinese soldiers are underfed. Feeding a Chinese army is not the expensive task one would imagine, for it costs just 1 cent a day to keep a Chinese soldier.

With a small amount of cash, in one of our many tests of the plan, we tried this scheme of "buying off" the Chinese troops. We had no difficulty, and I am confident we would not have had any trouble at all in buying off all the armies in China.

This, we believed was cheaper and more practicable than fighting, for it would be a case of hurry, hurry to Peking to save the lives of our women and children. By buying off the troops we could move wherever and whenever we pleased. I don't know how we would have come out with the Comptroller at home, but I think our people would have approved it.

RESULTS SUCCESSFUL
So complete were our plans for the relief column and so well drilled our men that in one test, made to show Minister Macdunnery what we could do, we had the head of the column ready to move—with all trucks under option available, the special bodies on the chassis and the Marines in place—twenty-eight minutes after the sounding of an alarm.

We had a large abut at headquarters to blow the signal if the emergency arose, and its walls were sufficiently loud to awaken everyone within miles.

Fortunately, the final take-over of the Tien-tsin-Peking area by the Southern army and the evacuation of the territory of the Southern forces was accomplished without fighting and looting, and our carefully laid plans for a rescue column were never utilized.

In preparation for the take-over we had planned every conceivable possibility and we were ready to meet the head of the Chinese column and ask the war lords to pass by us. In addition we had prepared signs in Chinese characters for posting about the quarters where Americans lived, requesting the warring factions to march around those areas.

On June, 1928, the actual take-over of the area by the victorious Southern forces took place, almost on schedule. There was considerable excitement for about ten days, but the Chinese passed us without as much as a belligerent look. I ten days the men kept to the air at all times, putting in a total of 1000 flying hours, from daylight to dark. By their excellent reconnaissance we were kept fully and reliably informed of the movements of all Chinese troops.

The other nations were not so fortunate in the possession of such a highly efficient force of planes, became more or less excited, and partially manned their positions on numerous occasions as flashes of danger were falsely broadcast. But we, having definite and reliable information, were able to stand by calmly confident.

The situation in China was not always so much a question of the Chinese fighting each other as of what some of the other foreign nations had in mind as far as the future was concerned.

We told its representatives that if they wanted to fight to do so, but to take the responsibility.

National Committee Meeting Attracts Leaders

President Invites Cohorts to Dine With Him

Kentucky Member to Remain at Hoover's Request

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Republican leaders continued to gather here today for the meeting of the National Committee and indications were that there will be a fairly full attendance, despite the fact that the election of Charles H. Houston of Tennessee as chairman is to be a formality.

President Hoover received a number of the committeemen and the White House during the day and invited several to have dinner at the White House this evening. This is the first of the series of such functions for the Republican leaders since the fourth scheduled tomorrow.

Dr. Robert W. Taft, retiring chairman of the committee, is a guest at the White House. He accompanied a group of the committee members on their call at the Executive Office. After retiring on Monday the work will return to private life on his own motion as he has not yet voluntarily resigned as director of the party organization but also assumed a diplomatic appointment.

With the election of Representative Hugh Smith by the New York State Central Committee as National Committee Chairman for the coming year, all vacancies in the membership of the National Committee have been filled.

Mrs. Margaret M. Fisher has been elected by the Vermont State Central Committee as its National Committee member for that State.

ELDERLY DRIVER DENIED LICENSE

Examination Failed, But Judge Rules Applicant Too Old for Traffic

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—John O. Lindell, 78 years of age, is too old to drive an automobile, Judge Jennings ruled yesterday in Superior Court, upholding the refusal of the State Division of Motor Vehicles to grant Lindell an operator's license. When the local office of the Division of Motor Vehicles refused him a permit to drive, Lindell took the matter into court.

Lindell passed the written examination with flying colors, motor vehicle authorities testified, but his road demonstration was not entirely satisfactory. Lindell has driven for many years and never had an accident, but increasing traffic hazards make it advisable to keep those of advanced age from behind the driver's wheel, the court ruled.

Bourbon Deficit Slashed by Individual Gifts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—The National Democratic Committee reported today to the clerk of the House that its unpaid obligations on August 31 amounted to $416,937 as compared to $657,775 on May 31.

J. R. Harkness, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, submitted a report showing his committee had an unexpended balance of $194,319 on August 31, as compared with a balance of $657,775 on May 31, 1928.

At the end of the 1928 campaign the Democratic Committee had a deficit of $1,500,000. The present obligations listed are a loan from the Bankers' Trust Company of New York of $99,000, a loan from John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, of $40,000 and interest due on bank loans, $197.

The report showed the National Committee to have a cash balance August 31 of $41,937, and unpaid bills amounting to $19,321. The largest contribution from May 31 to August 31 was $60,000 from the estate of Thomas F. Ryan of New York City. Daniel J. McLean, New York City, contributed $15,000 and John J. Curtin, and Edward F. Barrett both of New York, contributed $10,000 each.

BANDIT SUSPECT CAUGHT
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—Reports from Tuxtepec state that one of the bandits who engineered the train robbery and escaped with the $200,000 of the Federal Mining Company has been captured after being wounded. Nearly half of the $15,000 stolen money was recovered.

AIR COOLING PLAN FLOUTED

Use of Gas to Reduce Temperature of Atmosphere Will Not Work, Says Scientist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Producing cool weather by diffusing gas through the atmosphere, as has been suggested by a German inventor, is a good idea, in the opinion of William J. Humphreys, meteorological physicist of the Weather Bureau—only it can not be worked.

Dr. Humphreys placed the proposition on the basis of volume and weight, assuming that gas 100 deg. colder will reduce one-tenth of its volume by its weight.

They sound well, but they don't work," said Dr. Humphreys. "The best chance would be to release liquefied air or another gas much colder than the atmosphere. Assuming that gas 100 deg. colder than the air temperature could be obtained it would be necessary to release 125,000 tons of it—as an altitude of 600 feet—in order to reduce the temperature ten degrees over an area of one square mile."

Such a volume would be necessary, he explained, because gases expand much more than liquids. He computed the 125,000 tons

RUSSIANS SEIZE CHINESE SHIPS

Six Vessels Taken Over; Passengers Held

(Copyright 1929, by the New York Times.)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Six more Chinese ships have been seized by Russians on the Yangtze and Ussuri rivers and passengers, crews and mails detained. The Russians have completed three bridges over the Amur River, a tributary of the Amur, and strong cavalry forces are holding both ends. Troops are moving on the Russian side, apparently preparing for an incursion into Heilungkiang.

Both sides continue to accuse their opponents of raids over the border and both deny the accusations. The weeks of bickering through the mediation of Berlin apparently have been fruitless. Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese Foreign Minister, declared today that the negotiations are stationary, but that an agreement is possible "if Russia displays more sincerity and agrees to China's terms."

DEPOSITORS TO OPEN BANK TO RECOUP LOSS

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Depositors who suffered in the $5,000,000 failure of the Clarke brothers private bank plan to open a bank of their own in an attempt to recoup their losses. Notice of intention to organize the new bank has been filed with the State Superintendent of Banking. The institution will be known as the Park Row Trust Company and will occupy the premises of the Clarke Brothers Bank in Nassau street.

Before winter sets in... REPAIR AND REMODEL WITH CANE FIBRE INSULATION

WISE home-owners, who want greater home comfort and fuel economy this winter, are planning now on insulating their roofs, on lining their basements, attics and garages with cane-fibre insulation.

This means they will do their repairing and remodeling with Celotex, because Celotex is the only cane-fibre insulation.

Nature seems to have intended cane-fibre for insulating purposes. The fibres are long, tough and durable—ideal for interlacing into big, strong boards that contain millions of tiny, sealed air cells—just what is required for efficient insulation. Celotex builds as well as insulates. When used on the outside of houses, as sheathing, it adds structural strength... makes walls tight and permanent. Celotex Standard Building Board measures 4 feet wide, 7 to 12 feet long and 7/16 of an inch thick.

And on inside walls and ceilings, you can obtain finer, smoother, plastered surfaces with Celotex Lath. This better lath, 18 inches by 48 inches and 7/16 of an inch thick, is especially designed to reinforce against plaster cracks and eliminates lath marks.

Celotex is also handy for making comfortable extra rooms from waste spaces. It transforms unused areas into nurseries, play rooms, sewing and recreation rooms that are protected the year 'round from extreme weather.

As insulation, Celotex is not an expensive extra item, because it replaces other materials, and in later years saves you hundreds of dollars on fuel bills.

Before you build, buy or remodel, ask your architect, builder or dealer for further information on Celotex—and write us for our free booklet.

Government Aid Assured, Growers' Chief Says

Chairmen Conn Will Bring Message to Vineyardists

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—With the Federal Farm Board in sympathy with the restoration of California's grape industry, the most important item for consideration in the industry is the co-operation of all the growers and the government. Don D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, declared in a telegram sent to the association's headquarters and received today, emphasizing with Conn's departure for the west coast to explain in detail the financial and moral aspects of the farm board means, which is apparent to everyone.

"The growers are concerned exclusively with the dried, fresh or by-product of the problem can expect to prosper in their single sphere of interest unless they are parties to a joint industry program, which is the problem from the standpoint of the total supply available, limited with total demand."

DORAN SAYS LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT AT PEAK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Commissioner of Prohibition Doran said today that prohibition enforcement conditions throughout the nation are better than at any time since the Volstead Act became effective.

The commissioner, who just returned from a trip to California, said he had conferred with city officials in the larger towns of the country and had been assured that prohibition conditions are improving.

"In my month's trip," Doran said, "I stopped at ordinary hotels in the cities I visited and I did not see a single intoxicated person. City officials assured me that conditions in their municipalities were better than in the past and while there remains much work to be done the outlook is as satisfactory as we can expect."

extended to all three phases of the industry.

"On the other hand, the extent of financial relief in the future will depend very largely upon the co-operation of the individual grower. The Federal Fruit Stabilization Corporation is charged by the Farm Board to build up reserves at once for future seasons, which means that the entire amount of fresh market shipments must be collected from every single grower of the state.

SHORT CROP LUCKY
"We are fortunate to have a short crop this year, with resultant higher prices, and it is during periods of good returns that we should set aside our underwriting capital by which we can protect government credit during periods of peak production."

"The clarification of the prohibition situation along with many times the amount of these fresh market subscriptions. The approval of the plan of fruit industries, Inc., (the vineyardist's association of producers) which eventually means the absorption of a constantly increased tonnage of grapes into by-products, is in itself worth many times the amount of those subscriptions."

Jewish Council Puts Onus on Government

Grievances Presented to High Commission

Moslem Chief Gives Arabs' View of Disorders

[Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.]
JERUSALEM, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Jewish council this morning presented to the High Commission a statement reciting the grievances of the Jews, indirectly charging that the government officers not only neglected their duty in preventing the massacres, but actually were in connivance with the attacking parties.

The statement points out that systematic propaganda has been going on for some time for attacking the Jews, and the conviction is expressed that in government quarters there are forces interested in propaganda "for the creation of disputes between the two peoples in Palestine."

The government is blamed for ignoring the Jews' requests for protection and for failing to deny lies and calumnies against the Jews. The government is also blamed for the action of leading Moslems, whom it is supposed that the government is supporting in their action against the Jews.

"That these massacres have not been greater is due," according to this statement, "to the Jewish defense."

Col. Kish, chief of the Zionist organization here, called on the High Commission personally this morning and gave further details regarding the Jewish grievances.

INDIAN FORT RISES AGAIN AS GIFT FROM PUBLISHER

AUGUSTA (Me.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Old Fort Western, built in 1764 to protect the early settlers of Maine from Indians and to defend the head of navigation of the Kennebec River, today stands restored amid the bustle of twentieth century city life in Augusta.

Restoration of the fort was made possible by William H. Gannett, publisher of Maine newspapers, who provided funds for the purpose and presented the buildings to the city of Augusta.

the first time by the High Commission this afternoon and presented the Arab side of the affair. The Mufti disavowed all responsibility for the massacres, explaining that these were the natural consequences of the new aggressiveness of the Jews in openly avowing Zionist supremacy all over Palestine at the expense of the Arabs. He also declared that the Arabs never will be contented unless the Balfour declaration either is restricted or interpreted so as to assure the Arabs that their rights are not imperiled.

The Arabs demand social, political and economic rights equal to the Jews, based upon the principles of democracy without special privileges to race or creed, statutes regarding holy places, abrogation of the Jewish monopoly on the concessions to the hydroelectric and mining resources of the country, and new grants on terms opening competition, adoption of immigration restrictions, according to the economic and social needs of the country.

WEIMANN CONFERS WITH HENDERSON AT GENEVA
GENEVA, Sept. 7. (AP)—President Chaim Weimann, president of the Zionist executive committee in Palestine, had a long conference today with Arthur Henderson, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, about the situation in Palestine. Later Jewish circles in Geneva made it known that Weimann was "very much satisfied" with the result of the conversation, details of which were not announced.

SWISS PLAN ADVANCED
"All Arabs want equality with the Jews," he said. "Surely the 700,000 Arabs living in Palestine should be permitted that right with 75,000

Had Eczema Two Years. Face Disfigured. Healed by Cuticura.

"The eczema began about two years ago with hard, red pimples on my head and face. It itched and burned terribly causing me to scratch, and the scratching caused eruptions. I could neither sleep nor work on account of the irritation. The breaking out disfigured my face and my hair got very thin."

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I purchased more and after using two boxes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Devota Miller, Chicago, Wash. April 20, 1928.

Body and fenders by Pierce-Arrow—and Pierce-Arrow to every part!

THE mode of the hour is of course consulted in the selection of new colorings by Pierce-Arrow. But there is an artistry employed in the process which is rare among automobiles.

The blending of certain shades and tones... the choice of fine fabrics to match... the development of combinations which exclude the commonplace... the harmonizing of interiors with exteriors. All are the concern of artists who are masters of decoration and guardians, as well, of the tradition that is Pierce-Arrow.

The result is a quality that sets this distinguished line apart. Also there is a definite limit to the number of Pierce-Arrows possible of creation each season—governed by certain fine processes of manufacture. And so today's exhibit of the new Pierce-Arrow colorings is one to be attended without delay.

SMOOT TO TALK "COLD TURKEY"

Senator Grids for Battle on Tariff Tomorrow

"Facts and Figures and Not Politics" His Rule

Tax Returns Publicity Row May Start Debate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Although his voice may become hoarse in the swirl of debate, the man who will carry the burden of administration support for the tariff bill in the Senate said today that he intends to talk only "cold turkey and facts" and to avoid "arguments for political purposes."

The tall and bespectacled chairman of the Finance Committee, Smoot of Utah, revealed his plans as he sat engrossed beside a desk piled high with documents containing what he termed the "evidence" in support of the tariff increase endorsed by the Republicans of his committee.

NEW PLAN TO BE USED "There are the facts and the reasons for the proposed changes in the law and this bill," explained the veteran tariff leader as he banged his fist on the table and proceeded in a high-pitched voice.

"There will be no lengthy speeches or arguments for political purposes from me. If the opposition and the country want to know the facts, there they are in black and white," Smoot said the procedure he will follow will mark a departure from the "usual" method of continuing tariff debate primarily to the political side.

"The opponents can talk themselves hoarse in an attempt to kill the bill," he continued, "but ours will be an argument based on what the official figures show and nothing else."

ATTACK PREPARED

Smoot announced he is preparing an attack on the resolution to be offered at the outset of Monday's proceedings by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, minority tariff leader, to direct the Finance Committee to obtain from the Treasury from time to time while the tariff bill is pending income-tax data showing profits and losses of corporations which would benefit under the measure.

While opposition to the proposal is expected to renew the old controversy over tax returns publicity, Smoot said he is confident that State Republicans that they will support the Democrats on the question has led some observers to predict its passage.

Whatever the outcome, the tax resolution is expected to be debated at length and the promised clash over the administrative provisions which the minority has announced it will set up as its initial target.

SIX GUNMEN BITE DUST OVER ONE ROTTEN POEM

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—A poem, one of those maudlin, sappy bits of barroom doggerel, was held responsible today for six recent murders.

Frank Vercoe, saloon hanger-on, was the one who recited the verse. He was the first to die. Clifford Riley, Billy Clifford, Thomas McElligott, Cy Cawley and Edward Westcott followed.

It was last spring in Madison's saloon in Cicero, Vercoe, with a reputation as an entertainer, had the floor. He began recitation of the poem—a dramatic thing each verse of which ended in the accusative line, "You coward."

Vercoe may have had too much to drink. Police believe it highly probable. He became theatrical. Every time he came to the line, "You coward," he paused and pointed his finger straight at Bill Clifford.

Time after time Vercoe did this. Suddenly Clifford snapped a pistol probably will be delayed for several days.

ARGUMENT LISTED

Smoot is expected to take the position that to make available to all Senators for use on the floor in public debate income tax data regarded as secret would be a breach of faith by the government to the taxpayers. Senator Simmons contends such information would be relevant to the subject at hand and that it would be discretionary with the few Congressional committees already authorized by law to obtain it and turn it over to members of Congress.

A second aim of the Democrats will be repeal of the principal provisions granting the President power to change tariff rates after investigation by the Tariff Commission and restoration of this power to Congress.

The minority then will strive to eliminate from the measure the new provisions authorizing the Tariff Commission to convert all the ad valorem rates in the bill into duties based on United States instead of foreign value and report to Congress by January 1, 1933.

ABUSES FEARED

The argument will be made that this not only would be a radical change in the historic policy of assessing these rates on foreign value, but that it would constitute a grant of power to a commission easily susceptible to abuse, inadvertently if not otherwise.

Indications are that all of these matters will be ironed out before an attempt is made to recommit the bill with instructions to confine it to a revision solely in the interests of agriculture.

Senator Allen of Kansas, publicity director of the Hoover Presidential campaign, who was paired for the Borah resolution of last June aimed to bring about an exclusive farm tariff, said today a study of the revised measure has convinced him that while it is an improvement over the House bill as it affects ag-

HOOVER PLANS TOUR OF NATION

All details for the tour, however, still are to be worked out.

Suit Filed Over San Juan Loss

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP)—A damage suit for $100,000 was filed in United States District Court today against the Los Angeles-San Francisco Navigation Company and the Standard Oil Company by Mrs. Alice Fuchs, who charges her husband, William Fuchs, was drowned when the steamer San Juan sank after a collision off Pigeon Point on August 30.

The complaint charges that both the San Juan and the tanker S. C. T. Dodd were carelessly navigated and that the former vessel was unseaworthy.

"SHOULD EVERY MAN BE SUFFOCATED AT THE AGE OF 50?"

English Scientist Astounds Medical Profession and Thinking Men and Women Everywhere by His Revolutionary Statements to the Press.

Sir Arthur Keith, one of the greatest living scientists, stated in an interview the past week: "If I were Omnipotent, my idea would be to frame a body which would maintain its complete physical vitality and mental energy for from forty-five to fifty years then suddenly disappear. Forty-five is nature's ideal for man. It is at this age that one can say that human life begins to age."

Anything an accredited scientist may have to say, especially on a subject so important to humanity as life, health and happiness, will attract wide attention and comment, but it need not necessarily be consistent with established fact.

SIR ARTHUR SHOULD READ HISTORY
The pages of history are filled with the accomplishments of men who lived to a ripe old age. Some of these men lived to be 100, some to be 120, and some to be 150. They were not only physically strong, but they were also mentally active. They were not only successful in their own time, but they were also successful in the time to come. They were not only successful in their own time, but they were also successful in the time to come. They were not only successful in their own time, but they were also successful in the time to come.

MAN PAST 60 FEARING "OLD AGE" TELLS BENEFITS OF GLAND OPERATION

My Dear Doctor Wheeler:
It is with a great deal of pride that I write you this letter, realizing that you have done something for me that I am sure no one else could have done.
I have spent a good many years in trying to get well, have taken many different treatments to improve my health, and now having passed 60 years of age find myself feeling better than I have for years, following the gland operation at your hands. The results have been marvelous.
Before coming to you it seemed it would be my misfortune to become aged and weak, but my physical and mental improvement almost from the first day I underwent the simple operation assures me it will be my blessing to grow old gracefully.
I don't believe there is a single person that would like to live to be 100 or 125 years old, but I know the average person would like to live their years to the end with efficiency and free from the ills and diseases which beset the aged, or instead of growing old before their time.
I feel that your gland operation will be the means of curing practically all chronic diseases, and the time is coming, and it isn't far off either, when your treatment will be practiced universally.
Again I want to thank you for what you have done for me and wish you continued success. You may use this letter as you see fit. I hope it may be the means of helping some unfortunate back to health and usefulness once again.
(Signed) C. R. SWIFT, 2944 Division St., Los Angeles.

RECORD IN SIGHT FOR STATE FAIR

All Hands Join to Insure 500,000 Attendance

Last-Day Boom Launched at Directors' Breakfast

Passes for Tourists Brings Wide Representation

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—All hands joined today to put the Diamond Jubilee State Fair and Western States Exposition, which closes Monday night, over the top with an attendance of 500,000, which would establish a new mark for State fairs west of the Mississippi and equal the attendance of the largest eastern fairs.

The movement was launched at a breakfast meeting at the Hotel Sacramento given in honor of the directors of the State Fair and the California State Chamber of Commerce by Fred W. Kiesel and A. E. Goddard, local members of the State chamber board.

Gov. Young, William M. Moreland of Los Angeles, president of the State Chamber of Commerce, Robert A. Condes, president of the State Fair board; Harry Chandler and others joined in the plan to boom the fair attendance for tomorrow and Monday, which is Admission Day.

Forty thousand persons passed through the turnstiles today, bringing the attendance to around 250,000. If the crowds of tomorrow and Monday equal those of last Sunday and Labor Day, the goal of 500,000 for the ten days will have been reached.

HARMONY INFLUENCES
Garland declared the State Fair is one of California's greatest institutions and a powerful influence in welding all parts of the State closer together "because it parades before our eyes the diversified resources of the State."

"I can see," said Garland, visualizing the future California, "the most powerful State in the Union—a State of 50,000,000, all banded together with one purpose of succeeding. State unity is all essential in bringing about this dream, and the State Fair and the State Chamber of Commerce are laying the groundwork."

"I believe the exhibits of the southern counties at the State Fair and their aid in putting across the exposition are proof of the south's whole-hearted support of the institution and its desire for State unity."

PASS IDEA PRAISED
President Condes, on behalf of the fair, thanked Mr. Chandler for his co-operation in boosting the fair in Southern California and for his suggestion that tourists coming into California be given free fair tickets by State inspectors at the border line.

Condes declared that Chandler's tourist idea resulted in bringing thousands of out-of-State people

SOCIAL PROBLEM IRKS IRELAND

Family of Precedence Faced in Free State Same as in Washington

DUBLIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—The problem of precedence, which recently disturbed Washington society, is recurring in Ireland. Who is to follow whom, and why, cannot be determined, despite the prevalence of titles in Dublin, for the titles are all British and the Free State forbids recognition of any title except those conferred by it.

It has been suggested that a national order of merit be established to maintain precedence at social functions. It is understood that the government favors this proposition, while an opposition condemns it as undemocratic.

Prospective settlers to the fair. Practically every State in the Union was represented by those who have taken advantage of the free passes.

Mr. Chandler, declared Mr. Condes, showed a powerful spirit in helping the directors to put across his idea of free tourist tickets. It was a fine piece of work and we plan to develop the idea further next year.

Today was set aside by the fair directors in honor of the residents of the Joaquin Valley, San Francisco, Oakland and the bay counties and Oregon. It was a "day for each."

Tomorrow will be Southern California Day. There was no special feature on today's program, but the visiting thousands were not at a loss to find plenty of amusement and other things to attract their time and attention. The exhibit buildings were unusually crowded through the afternoon and evening.

HORSE SHOW TONIGHT
Due to public request and because it has been necessary to postpone several events in the hunter class, the fair directors decided to hold the horse show tomorrow night. The show today brought out the greatest entry in the history of the event and nightly the public has been filled to overflowing.

A grand program will be presented at the fair tomorrow afternoon by the San Francisco and Oakland. More than 800 members of this society will make the trip to Sacramento to put on ceremonies, drills and other numbers in front of the grandstand.

A model farm, with rows of gardens, modern barns and farm houses, lends realism to the exhibit of San Luis Obispo county in the agricultural section. It is designed by Thomas Chalmers, county horticultural commissioner. The foreground is made up of a great circle divided into twelve compartments, with an arrow swinging around to each of the twelve major industries. The models are used to illustrate the county's diversified resources.

Specimens of nuts, vegetables, grains, beans and bulbs and flower seeds are displayed.

Federal Check on Highway Use to Start Soon
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—In order that the Federal government and the Western States may know what the flow of traffic is throughout the year on the main transcontinental highways and on other roads in the Federal-aid highway system in the West, the highway departments of California, of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming, Utah, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Nebraska and the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture will make a traffic survey over a period of one year, beginning this month. It was announced today by the Bureau of Public Roads.

Among the routes on which traffic will be measured are the historic Oregon Trail over its entire length from Omaha to Portland, parts of the Santa Fe and Overland Trails and the long distance motor-bus routes from Omaha to Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco and from Denver to Los Angeles by way of Santa Fe and from Seattle to Los Angeles.

TYPHOON DEATH LIST MOUNTING

Luzon Island Toll Now Has Risen to 164 Killed

Red Cross Workers Rushed to Scene in Airplanes

Water Shortage Adding to Horror of Situation

MANILA, Sept. 7. (AP)—The number of known deaths in the typhoon which swept Southern Luzon Island early this week jumped to 164 today as additional reports told of the havoc wrought in a half-dozen provinces.

The town of Infanta on the western coast of Tayabas Province, reported fifty persons dead. Three army airplanes, carrying Red Cross workers, flew to Infanta, which is almost due west of Manila, and reported that conditions are deplorable there.

Only eight houses are left standing in the town, said the Red Cross report, and the populace has experienced an acute food shortage. A navy relief ship will be sent down the coast tomorrow carrying physicians, nurses and supplies for the stricken areas.

The water shortage, caused when the typhoon broke a big main leading from Montalban to Manila, continued today, an emergency dump from Novales Dam, twelve miles north of the city, having failed to bring relief.

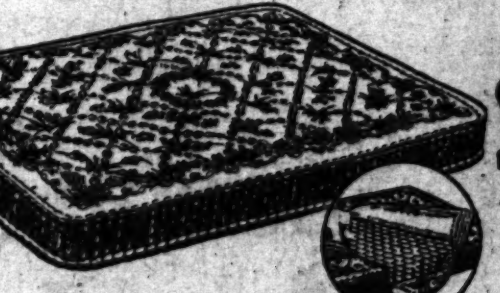

Utah Slaying Suspect Held

WOMEN DENY RED CHARGES

Six Suspects Arraigned in Radical Parade

Bail Reduced and Two Sent to Juvenile Hall

Trial for Thirteen Men Set for Thursday

Charged with participating in the Red parade which was broken up by police reserves Friday night and with disturbing the peace, six women were arraigned before Municipal Judge Bullock yesterday. Through their attorney, Leo Gallagher, all pleaded not guilty to both charges.

TRIAL SET FOR MEN

Jury trial was also set by Judge Pope for the 13th inst. for thirteen men arrested at the same time and arraigned Friday in night court by Municipal Judge Reed, where they pleaded not guilty. Those who are to be tried by jury are: Mrs. Rose Spector, 719 North Evergreen street; Mrs. Lillian Silverman, 220 North Boylston street; Edith Berkman and Gustie Reed, 237 East Third street; Frank Spector, 719 North Evergreen street; George Klotz, 1202 West First street; Mack Roberts, no address; Jack Pessell, 3123 Robinson street; Harry Schneiderman, 421 Pickett street; Harold Simons, 2805 Valhalla avenue; George Yoneda, Japanese gardener, R.P.D. Route A; Martin Shapiro, 300 Soto street; Leon Mahille, 220 North Boylston street; Arthur Dick, no address; Fred Pirionista, 3728 Ramona boulevard; John Little, Communist organizer, 318 Stinson Building and Michael Shurevich, San Gabriel.

Several of the defendants, both men and women, were in court all the time of the Young Communist League, which meeting at the Plaza to celebrate International Youth Day was followed by the attempted march on the City Hall.

BANNERS TO BE SHOWN

Incendiary banners aimed from paraders by police acting under Detective Lieutenant Hyman of the intelligence section will be produced in court as evidence. Hyman declared, as well as circulars distributed at the Plaza mass-meeting attacking the Officers' Reserve Corps and Boy and Girl Scouts.

Judge Pope reduced bail on Klotz, Yoneda, Schneiderman and Dick, all of whom told him they have been residents of Los Angeles for more than five years, from $200 to $50 each, following a motion by Gallagher for reduction of bail, but refused to do so in the cases of the other men, most of whom admitted they have resided here for less than six months.

The official charges against all of the defendants are parading without a license and disturbing the peace.

Postage Stamp Appeal Voiced

An appeal for cancelled postage stamps, suitable for juvenile collectors, who are confined to beds at the General and Orthopaedic hospitals, was issued yesterday by Le Roy M. Edwards, Postmaster of Al Malakiah Temple. The Shrine's organization assumes the expense of responsibility of supplying amusement, entertainment and some permissible luxuries to the children who are bed patients.

Collecting stamps is more than an amusement with the children, as the teachers disqualify any child who does not study the country from which the stamp comes.

Stamps may be sent to the office of George J. Ramsey, Recorder of Al Malakiah Temple, 603 West Jefferson street.

Irving Berlin's Wife Arrives

Mrs. Irving Berlin, the former Ellen Mackay, arrived yesterday with her daughter to make Hollywood her home for the next six months or more. She was met by her song-writer husband when the Southern Pacific's West Coast Limited arrived yesterday morning.

Berlin is in Hollywood writing songs for talking pictures at the United Artists Studio and he and his wife will remain here until the first part of next year as guests at the home of Joseph M. Schenck, B. C., where they spent several days.

Where Death and Destruction Were Checkmated

HAGEN TOLD TO PAY WIFE LARGE SUM

Judgment for $9300 in Alimony Struggle Won by Mate of Golf Player

Walter C. Hagen, former world golf champion, must pay his wife, Edna C. Hagen, the sum of $9300, the amount of a judgment she obtained against him yesterday at the close of a brief hearing before Superior Judge Anderson. The money, according to the wife, represents back payments of $600 a month, due her under an agreement she and Hagen made when they separated in October, 1928.

Mrs. Hagen did not appear at the hearing. Her side of the case was presented to the court in depositions by her counsel, Attorney Edward L. Compton, who declared that his client now is living in New York and unable to come to Los Angeles. Neither Hagen nor his attorney appeared to contest the suit or the judgment was entered by default.

The former golf champion brought suit for a divorce against Mrs. Hagen, asserting that she deserted him at St. Petersburg, Fla. The case still is pending in Superior Court here.

However, according to the depositions placed before the court here yesterday the husband and wife following their separation entered into an agreement in October, 1928, wherein Hagen was to pay Mrs. Hagen the sum of $600 a month for her support. None of the payments ever was made, the wife declares.

In his answer to the suit Hagen declared that his revenue from golf playing has not been sufficient to make the payments asked by Mrs. Hagen.

Tourist Up on Driving Charge
John J. Masterson, Ohio victor arrested by Dist. Atty. Pitts personally on the 6th inst., was arraigned before Municipal Judge Haas yesterday on drunk-driving charges. The court set his preliminary hearing for the 13th inst. and fixed bail at $500.

Pitts arrested Masterson, he declared, after he observed the Ohioan's erratic driving on Laurel Canyon near Sunset Boulevard. The arrest was made, according to Pitts, after a pursuit of more than a mile from the point where Masterson's car struck another machine and proceeded on its way.

BURBANK HALTS FLOOD DISASTER

Glendale May Have to Share Water Supply

Inquiry Begun to Learn Cause of Crack

Reservoir Reported Partly on Filled Ground

BURBANK, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) Burbank experienced excitement today when a leak was discovered at the base of the 1,000,000-gallon Municipal Reservoir No. 4 perched 200 feet above this city in the foothills at Magnolia and San Jose streets, north of here. Directly in the path of a possible flood of 6,000,000 gallons in the reservoir lie 200 homes housing approximately 700 persons.

Discovery of the break was made at 10:30 a.m. Immediately following the alarm, Public Service Superintendent J. H. McCambridge rushed crews to the reservoir where they opened emergency valves to relieve the pressure on the concrete-lined walls of the square reservoir. Police and firemen were hurried to evacuate the endangered district and to open fire hydrants. Telephone messages urged residents throughout the city to open their hydrants and help draw off the water as rapidly as possible.

POLICE LINES SET

Seven hundred persons were urged to leave their homes in the probable path of a flood. Police lines were established to prevent anyone from entering the danger zone. Alarm spread through the city as a torrent of water from the opened fire hydrants poured down the main streets, reaching as far as the Southern Pacific Railway tracks.

By noon, when more than 2,000,000 gallons of water had been released, Supt. McCambridge announced that the danger seemed to be past.

Mayor H. E. Bruke, who had ordered all residents out of the threatened district, joined with City Engineer Howard Little in starting an investigation to determine the cause of the cracking and the extent of the damage to residences and the district. At the same time Police Chief Burgh began an investigation to determine whether the crack was the result of human agencies.

SHORTAGE FACED
Supt. McCambridge and City Engineer Little gave the opinion that

MARRIED TEACHERS
The question of the married school-teacher is again agitating the brains of many public spirited citizens who write to The Times. One expressed the idea delicately by saying that they ought to be fired one year after marriage.

Just so. I remember one profound young savant who acquired a husband while teaching in the high school. She would just get Carrer in the act of sticking Roman swords through the soldiers hastily to excuse himself to gallop to the nearest telephone and remind the nurse girl at home to be sure to heat the baby's milk.

THE FIGHTING ARABS
If you want to know what this Arab war is really about, look on a map and find the Khaybar Pass—the back door of India.

There are two danger spots in the British Empire. One is the Suez Canal which is the water gate to India; the other is the Khaybar Pass. Russia plotted with the Afghans of Afghanistan to open the mountain door; but British diplomacy skillfully put the idea under him and the Afghans lost his throne. This Arab uprising is Russia's answer.

BURBANK HALTS FLOOD DISASTER

Crack Develops in Wall of Reservoir

Hundreds of Homes Periled by Tons of Water

Quick Action With Safety Valves Saves Town

The crack had been caused by a slight earth movement.

City Manager W. F. Patterson announced that for the present an old reservoir will be used for the storage of water, and that during the period while the No. 4 reservoir is under investigation, water for ordinary use will be pumped directly into the city mains.

Burbank's water supply is pumped from wells. The No. 4 reservoir is a square, concrete lined one and is situated at an altitude of 200 or 250 feet above the city. The crack, which reached water and started the alarm is at the base of the reservoir.

Mayor Bruce of Burbank called a special meeting of the City Council and department heads this afternoon to plan for the maintenance of the city's water supply.

A preliminary investigation of the crack in the reservoir of the City of Burbank's Department is said to have shown that a section of the reservoir near the southwest corner had sunk several inches, causing numerous cracks to radiate in all directions.

The new location will be at Third and Broadway, where the whole fourth floor of the Ryne building, comprising 10,000 square feet of floor space, has been leased for the legal department and the night school of commerce.

When the university recently vacated its campus at 1801 Venice boulevard, turned it over to Loyola High School, and moved its day schools out to the new campus in Del Rey Hills, it was decided to have the night school, consisting of law and commerce, convene nearer the center of the city, and the decision last evening was the final result of the new plans for expanding the work of the former Loyola College into a university.

The night schools will open on the 22nd inst., and sessions will take place the 12th, 19th and 26th inst. The classes are from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evenings, and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the mornings on from 12:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. The latter is new.

The fund-raising drive will be carried on by more than 300 volunteer workers under the direction of the campaign executive committee, the general solicitation division and the special gifts group.

PANTAGES JURY AWAITS WAGNER

Autopsy Surgeon to Go on Stand Next for State

His Testimony Expected to Clear Up Most Points

Prosecution Then Will Offer Its Additional Witnesses

Dr. A. P. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, courtroom veteran of many bitterly fought murder cases, will be the first prosecution witness when the Los Angeles murder trial resumes Tuesday morning in Superior Judge Barlow's court.

The county autopsy surgeon did not perform the autopsy until after the coroner's jury had been sworn in and the coroner's jury had been sworn in and the coroner's jury had been sworn in.

Both Dr. Wagner, who made the autopsy, and Dr. Donald Case, who was operating on the victim when the Japanese died, testified from the witness stand Friday that the injured man died as the result of a blood clot on the brain, a fracture of the pelvis and a displaced left hip together with shock.

Later during the cross-examination of Dr. Case it developed that the operation and anesthesia were ordered after Robinson's condition was much improved. Dr. Case also testified that before the operation was given the heart action was normal.

The doctors both told the jury of five women and seven men that the victim died as the result of a blood clot on the brain, a fracture of the pelvis and a displaced left hip together with shock.

According to Corrallo, who is heading the prosecution, testimony is expected from Dr. Wagner which will clear up all the disputed points now before the jury and it will be following his testimony that the prosecution through various witnesses will attempt to prove that Mrs. Pantages was the one who drove her car in a reckless manner, drove her car in a reckless manner, drove her car in a reckless manner.

From Corrallo's testimony it would appear that the State intends to attempt to prove that Mrs. Pantages was the one who drove her car in a reckless manner, drove her car in a reckless manner, drove her car in a reckless manner.

SECRECY RULES GRAFT QUIZ ROSES GET IN DAHLIA EXHIBITION

Grand Jury and District Attorney Continue Inquiry But Keep Silence on Developments

Throwing a veil of secrecy about the investigation now being conducted into charges that certain police officers have sold confiscated liquor to bootleggers and extended them protection for a consideration, the grand jury and District Attorney's office yesterday continued the inquiry but declined to disclose any of the developments.

Harry D. McDonald, of 206 Grimes street, stating only that it is proceeding satisfactorily and probably will result in indictments being returned within ten days. He announced that, assisted by Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark, he will continue the investigation throughout the week-end, taking no holiday.

Earlier in the day it was revealed that Edward DeGarmo, chairman of the grand jury, spent some time in conference with Police Chief Davis. When leaving the office, Mr. DeGarmo stated that he had requested a detailed report from the chief concerning the McDonald case.

Chief Davis said that he had not discussed the matter with Mr. DeGarmo. The roses were developed in an experimental garden located at Puente and in the opinion of the horticulturists at the State Horticultural Society, are one of the finest contributions to the floral world in recent years. The dahlias show many of the main features of the roses, and the latter of the latter roses will be devoted to the floral display.

MARK TWAIN DATA SOUGHT

Kin of Humorist Here to Gather Material for New Biography of Illustrious Relative

Cyril Clemens, president of the Mark Twain Society, arrived in this city yesterday on the first leg of a trip through California and Nevada in search of material for a new life of Mark Twain which he is engaged in writing. Mr. Clemens, who is a son of a second cousin of the noted novelist and humorist, pointed out at the Mayflower Hotel last night that six years of his noted relative's early life were spent in the mining camps of this state and Nevada and he said he expects his present trip to be productive of a rich store of hitherto-unpublished biographical material.

His expectation is based, he said, "Clemens, Samuel L., local editor on a previous trip to the old mining region up north which resulted in his uncovering several interesting mementoes of the life of Mark

Twain in the hectic mining camps and I shall be able to bring back a wealth of material for my new biography of Mark Twain, which has a world-wide membership of persons desirous of keeping alive interest in the life of work of Mark

Twain. In this connection, he will deliver a number of talks over the radio and before literary and social organizations.

The honorary president of the society is Premier Mussolini of Italy; one of the honorary vice-presidents is Emilio Aguinaldo, former Filipino rebel leader; other noted members are Rabinadrath

Tagore, John Galsworthy, Premier

Macdonald of Great Britain, Will known California members are

Rupert Hughes, Gertrude Atherton

and Kathleen Norris.

While Mark Twain did not come to Southern California during his youthful wanderings, Mr. Clemens said he believes there are old persons living in this section who know

Twain during the years he spent in the mining camps. One pioneer, now living in La Jolla, he said, has sent him a Nevada Territorial Directory of the year 1863, which lists Mark Twain as a resident of Virginia City, the entry reading

"Clemens, Samuel L., local editor of the Nevada Enterprise."

In addition to his interest in uncovering data concerning Mark

Twain's life in the Far West, Mr.

Clemens said he also hopes during his stay here, which will last about ten days, to form a local branch of the Mark Twain Society, which has a world-wide membership of persons desirous of keeping alive interest in the life of work of Mark

Twain. In this connection, he will deliver a number of talks over the radio and before literary and social

Will Rogers Soon to Make Initial Appearance in First Sound Picture

Youth—his ambitions to live a bohemian life in the Parisian way so far as young men are concerned, and the social aspirations of American girls of the leisure class abroad —is the theme of Will Rogers' first all-talking picture, "They Had to See Paris."

William Fox announces that the comedy-romance of youth will have its world premiere at the Fox Car-thay Theatre on the 11th inst.

Youth has its fling and youth is served in "They Had to See Paris."
Even Daddy Rogers in the talking comedy takes his own fling in his own way and for his own purpose.
In fact, daddy comes out to be so shrewdly self-justified that his boy and girl themselves out for all that Paris offers, are most righteously shocked themselves.

"Paris is an especially good color, and comes out exactly as the naked eye sees it, as does red—all tones of it—blue, all tones of it also, and yellow. Purples are confusing because they combine two colors. Some greens are excellent, some not, at all while blues and the majority of pastel shades register accurately."

CATLETT HUMOR PUT ON SCREEN

make it a cinch. I knew the limit perfectly; in fact, I helped to write it. I made a very dramatic and sudden entrance and sat at leaves back against the door with my arms outstretched, and said:
"Well, how's everybody today?" No one said a word and I looked at Ray, who was sitting with headphones strapped over his ears, waiting for me to make a final expression and no trace of a smile.

"No laughs, nothing but a lot of dead pans staring at me. I accidentally looked at the wall for a moment. I started again and, of course, looked straight at Ray
Quinn, and then at the camera. "Oh," said Quinn, "look at me or the camera." So I commenced again, and, of course, looked straight at the camera again.

San Diego, Cal., has been selected as the town where tomorrow the entire company with stage props, costumes and sets will travel continuously for an opening Tuesday.
Carroll plans to keep the Minto
Box in possible activity a revue playhouse. "I should like to do one revue a year, and perhaps one original musical show with story and book," he said. "I promise there will be nothing about any of the features and I like to cater to what is known as the family trade. I want to keep my customers coming back and I want to draw them from the ranks of Los Angeles and Millions of citizens. New York may be able to stand the rigors of the type of thing, but I don't think the Pacific Coast could."

Sophie Tucker Held Motherly in Private Life

In public, a "hot mamma," in private, a loving mother, is declared the dual characterization of Sophie Tucker, renowned singer of turditties, in "Honky-Tonk," now playing at the Tower Theatre.
During the progress of the story,
it is revealed that, though apparently a career entertainer at the Honky-Tonk night club, she actually lives the life, and pursues it to maintain her daughter in a fac-tious European school. Then comes the day when the daughter leaves the troupe when the profligate young millionaire enters—and the play is really on.
Miss Tucker is supported by George E. Stone, Lee Lee, Audrey
Farris and Marion Hamilton.
NOVEL TO BE TALKIE
Edith Wharton's popular novel,
"The Children," is to be made into an all-talking picture by Paramount.

Technicolor Mixes Things

The popularity of technicolor films is bringing new problems to the players and directors who have recently been mastering the intricacies of sound films.

Catherine Dale Owen, who has acted in the color production, "The Glorious Night," in which she played the lead opposite John Gilbert, at present is appearing in an all-color film.

Scenes are more difficult to film in color as they are in black and white," says Miss Owen. "The wardrobe of my first picture was most confusing, because coming in black and white, it is difficult to force. Experts, I am told, are constantly being fooled by the way in which color photographs in black and white."

"I was delighted to learn that my second picture, "Rogue Song," was to be done in color. Here at last the lovely blues and greens of my wardrobe chosen would be recorded in full glory. But not so at all.
Some of the colors come out accurately, while others do not, recorded as one would expect them to at all."

Emotion Held Need in Films

Lila Lee holds temperament and emotion are akin, and are necessary to a motion-picture or stage player.
Miss Lee, who at present is enacting a leading role in William Howard's production of "The Hurdy-Gurdy Man," declares: "One frequently hears of this player or that player being temperamental. That, perhaps, is one of his greatest assets.
Maybe nonsense at times, but invaluable, nevertheless, because it makes that person emotionally qualified for his profession."

"STREET GIRL" LIKE TOPSY

"Street Girl" pursue a similar method. The melody they sing is called "Lovable and Sweet," it is heard three times—with intervals between —and each time is introduced naturally in its manner of delivery is entirely different. In each instance, but the charm, you see, keeps growing with familiarity, and the secular changes prevent it from becoming monotonous.
"You appreciate what this ad-compliment: The eye is left free, as it were, to be intrigued and enticed by the melody, while the ear is lulled by a tune with which it already is unconsciously familiar, and thus requires less strain in listening to."
Mr. Ruggles, upon the completion of his work on "Condemned," a French panel entry drama, will return to the R-K-O. Studio.
He is to direct Babe Daniels in

SMART SET TAKES TO CRIME

Frances Noyes Hart in "Hide in the Dark" Spins a Mystifying Compelling Tale of Thirteen People of the Swift and Wealthy Set

BY LILLIAN C. FORD
HIDE IN THE DARK. By Frances Noyes Hart. Doubleday, Doran & Co., New York.

For some time presidents, professors, diplomats and scientists have maintained their austere interest in detective stories, preferably those ingeniously plotted, scientifically sound, and well written.

More recently the circle of readers who read the good detective story has widened to include even the critical reader of fiction along with that curious class who read no other books. With the smart set being delineated so ably in some of the more recent detective stories, it is not surprising that they are becoming a part of the smart set.

It is in fact, quite the smart set that reach for a detective story instead of a love story or a tale of seduction on Long Island or on the withering heights of Brooklyn or even in the Everglades.

A new detective story, that is, a tale of seduction on Long Island or on the withering heights of Brooklyn or even in the Everglades.

Gossip of the Book World

"An Emperor's Romance," by Pierre Desre Miller, published by the Hollywood Press syndicate, is a colorful love story of the Byzantine period. It has to do with the reign of Theodora, the beautiful Macedonian and Justinian, the great Emperor of the East. Father Miller has in this compact pamphlet caught the spirit of the period and re-created the atmosphere of glamour and magnificence that marked the reign of Justinian the Great.

Despite the great rush to the colleges since the war, resulting in the enrollment of something like 800,000 students in 1928, the profession of the teacher is still one of the least-known figures in American life. There have been countless stories of underpaid teachers, but few have been so recent as this one, which is a story of a teacher's life.

ROTH EVALUATES SPINOZA

SPINOZA. By Leon Roth. Little, Brown & Co., Boston.

A series of monographs on "those philosophers who have mainly influenced western thought" is being edited by Professor J. L. Stocks of the Victoria University of Manchester, Eng. The first of these is a study of Spinoza, the Dutch philosopher, by Leon Roth, now of the University of Southern California.

Born in Amsterdam, of Jewish parents, Spinoza's immediate ancestors were "Marranos," this being a derogatory name applied by the adherents of the Roman faith to the descendants of Spanish and Portuguese Jews who sought refuge from the terrors of the Inquisition, and from 1492 onward came in great numbers to the tolerant Netherlands.

Not born to wealth, a legacy from a friend of his youth gave Spinoza leisure for the prosecution of his studies. He must have believed that a scholar ought to live with strict austerity, for though he was offered an annual income of five hundred florins, he accepted only three hundred, and when more was required earned it by his work as an optician.

Dr. Roth, who is professor of philosophy at Jerusalem University, traces Spinoza's first three books, rather than reviews of his studies, to the influence of the works of Descartes and other authors, than to the influence of his own thinking. The fragmentary "improvement of the understanding" is considered very valuable, since it contains the key to Spinoza's system and also reveals the path which Spinoza traversed in order to reach his conclusions.

"It is not only an ethics, but a metaphysics," says Dr. Roth, "and it is not only an ethics, but a metaphysics." "It is not only an ethics, but a metaphysics," says Dr. Roth, "and it is not only an ethics, but a metaphysics."

Dr. Roth sums up his conclusions by rating the Principles of Descartes as "the doctrine of the intellect," the Principles of Spinoza as "the doctrine of the intellect," and the Principles of Kant as "the doctrine of the intellect."

"The life of a woman," observed Saint Prosper, "can be divided into three epochs: in the first she dreams of love, in the second she dreams of love, in the third she dreams of love." This contention is ably supported by Leon Roth in his "The Life of a Woman," a study of the life of a woman, from the time she is born to the time she dies.

The little town of Gaffney, S. C., has come in for more than its share of publicity recently. It is the town where the town librarian, Mrs. Mary Peterkin, was found dead. The story is told in "The Life of a Woman," a study of the life of a woman, from the time she is born to the time she dies.

A Group of Recent Books

RELIGION AND THE MODERN WORLD. By John Herman Randall and John Herman Randall, Jr. Frederick A. Stokes Company, New York.

A fearless and constructive treatment of the subject of the influence of religion on modern life. It is a book that every person interested in the progress of man's spiritual life will want to read. It deals with such subjects as how religions grow; the religious heritage of the nineteenth century; the religious tradition and science and industrial civilization; the strength of orthodoxy and the religious challenge of modern civilization.

In the chapter dealing with the challenge of faith the authors say: "For this modern age faith in divinity is not the belief that a supernatural God exists in some physical heaven, nor is it the knowledge that theology has professed as the rule of God over the course of nature. Faith in divinity is the hope that man may see more clearly the ideal possibilities of human life, and, seeing, reverse the tangled fabric of his lives."

TELEVISION. Present Methods of Picture Transmission. By E. Herion Sheldon and E. H. Griewald. D. Van Nostrand Company, New York.

In this volume the authors undertake to give a true picture of television today and to give the reader the necessary background to enable him to make a study of the subject as a whole or any one special feature of this new miracle of science which promises so much.

SUNDERLIN ON FIRE INSURANCE. By Charles A. Sunderlin. The Spectator Company, Chicago.

The author of this volume, which is intended both as a textbook and as a ready reference for the practicing attorney, is a lecturer on insurance at the University of Southern California and secretary and general counsel of the Insurance Institute of Southern California.

The work will be found useful for insurance executives, underwriters, adjusters, general agents and local agents, and insurance brokers, in enabling them to move clearly and with the least legal significance of the many and deviously worded clauses in the standard insurance contract.

The average property owner may have got information that may save him legal fees and actually protect him from loss in the insurance of his property. It will also serve the needs of banks, building and loan associations, mortgage companies and individuals looking for money on improved property and seeking to safeguard their investment by means of adequate protection against fire loss.

A useful work covering the legal aspects of a very important factor in the conduct of modern business life.

TWO BOOKS ON BIERCE

Walter Neale and Adolphe De Castro Present Biographies of the Stormy Petrel of American Journalism Whose Disappearance in Mexico is Shrouded in Mystery

BY THOMAS F. FORD
LIFE OF AMBROSE BIERCE. By Walter Neale. Walter Neale Publishing Company, New York.

There seems recently to have developed a bull market in biographies. Only a month or so ago Mr. C. Hartley Crockett was the life of this stormy petrel of American Journalism in a volume entitled "Bitter Bierce," today we have two more biographical studies of the man who went to Mexico never to return; and I am told that another is to appear shortly.

After a careful reading of these two latest efforts I have no hesitancy in saying that Mr. Crockett's book is the best of the lot. He, it seems to me, came to his subject with a fairly decent attitude of detachment, and while his estimate of Bierce in American letters is as far from the mark as the estimate of the man in an orderly and unbiased way.

That Bierce was a world literary figure is undeniable. That he made a reasonably important contribution to American letters is true. His short stories are original in conception and detail in execution. They are the work of a supreme and original genius is pure truth. His mastery of the horror tale is comparable to Poe's, but by no means superior. That his work has suffered from lack of exploitation is true, but Bierce himself was largely responsible for that. His lonely disposition made it almost impossible for anyone to get along with him. His contempt for publishers was of an order that did not make for his popularity among the members of that branch of the book business.

That Bierce brought a fresh, vigorous and original point of view into American literary criticism no one who reads his work will have the hardihood to question. That he was undoubtedly the founder of the school of which Mr. Menckin is the present-day pontifical exponent, is to his credit. As to the estimate of Bierce's work in American letters, it is a matter of opinion. It is a matter of opinion. It is a matter of opinion.

YOUNGSTERS
FILM ROLES

Two Children Score in Picture Now Showing at Paramount

The venture of entrusting two of the most important roles in a feature picture to a pair of 14-year-old children has won out for the picture of director and author.

The youngsters are Tom Brown and Patricia Darling. They have played the lead roles in Paramount's production of "The Little Princess," which is now playing at the Paramount Theatre.

"I am much more sure of good things with them than with many other children stars whom I have directed," says Robert Emery, director of the picture.

A director, in handling intelligent child actors, will find that they have more ideas about the picture than he gives them. They are not only intelligent, but they are also very cooperative. They have played the lead roles in Paramount's production of "The Little Princess," which is now playing at the Paramount Theatre.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1440

The Story of the World War 210—The Fight at the Bridges.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

LINE 1, 1918, FIGHT THE 7TH MACHINE GUN BATTALION OF THE 3RD AMERICAN DIVISION FIGHTING DESPERATELY AGAINST THE FRENCH AT CHATEAU THIERRY TO HOLD OFF THE INCREASING NUMBERS OF GERMAN TROOPS THAT SOUGHT TO CROSS THE MARNE.

NIGHT THE FRENCH RETIRED ACROSS THE MARNE, WHILE AMERICAN MACHINE GUNNERS, CONCEALED IN HOUSES ON THE SOUTH BANK, COVERED THEIR RETREAT. THEN THE BRIDGES WERE BLOWN UP, PREVENTING THE GERMAN CROSSING OF THE RIVER IN PURSUIT.

AND GUN SQUADS UNDER LEUT. SIBBELL, LINE "MORRIS" AT THE BRIDGE, HAD REMAINED ON THE NORTH BANK, HOLDING BACK THE GERMAN WHILE THEIR COMRADES AND THE FRENCH CROSSED THE RIVER.

SIBBELL AND HIS MEN WERE CUT OFF WHEN THE BRIDGES WERE BLOWN UP, BUT PLUCKILY FOUGHT THEIR WAY ALONG THE BANK TO THE PARTIALLY DESTROYED RAILWAY BRIDGE, BY WHICH THEY MANAGED TO REACH THE SOUTH SIDE.

Some of the gift handkerchiefs for the new season have initials at the corners, fashioned from fine Italian cut-work, similar to that long prevalent in table linens. Such initialing is usually finished in fine

LOS ANGELES AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY EXPANDING

MARKED PROGRESS SHOWN IN MANUFACTURING HERE

Takes Prominent Place in Line of Motor Accessory Production During Several Past Years

Los Angeles moves steadily to pre-eminence as a tire-manufacturing center and likewise to a leading position in other branches of the automotive industry. With the paint scarcely dry on the new factories here and expansion plans under way, the city is making rapid headway in the volume of automobile production and rapidly increasing its output of automobile bodies.

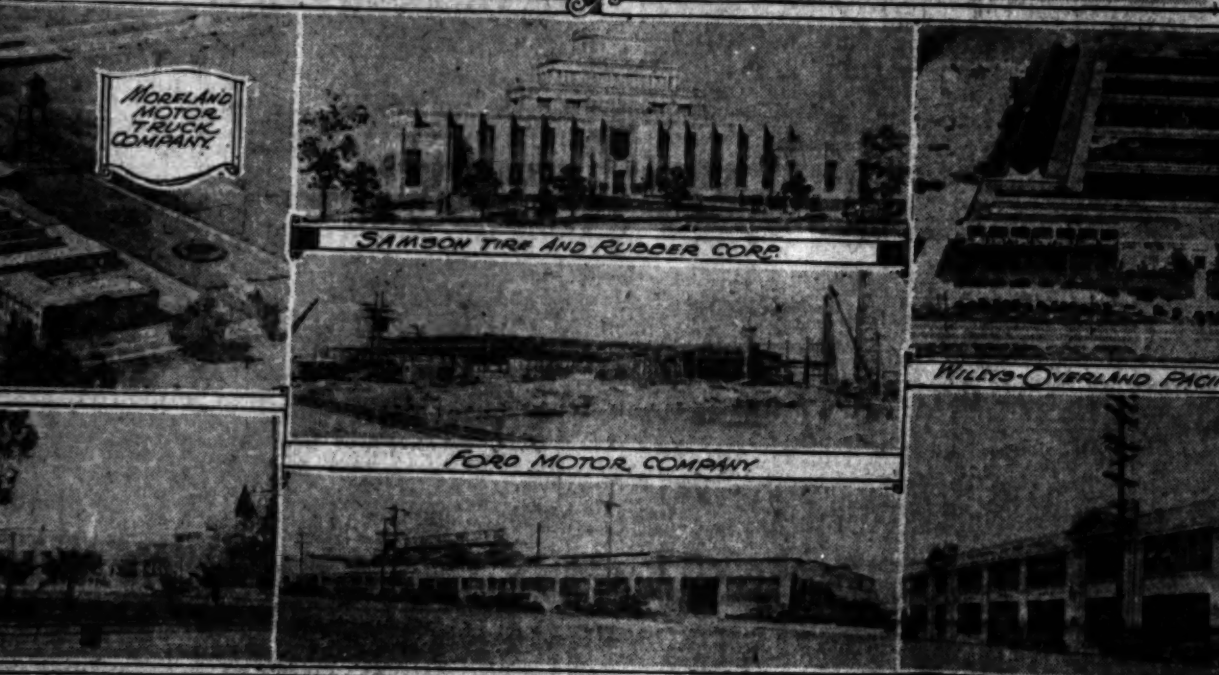

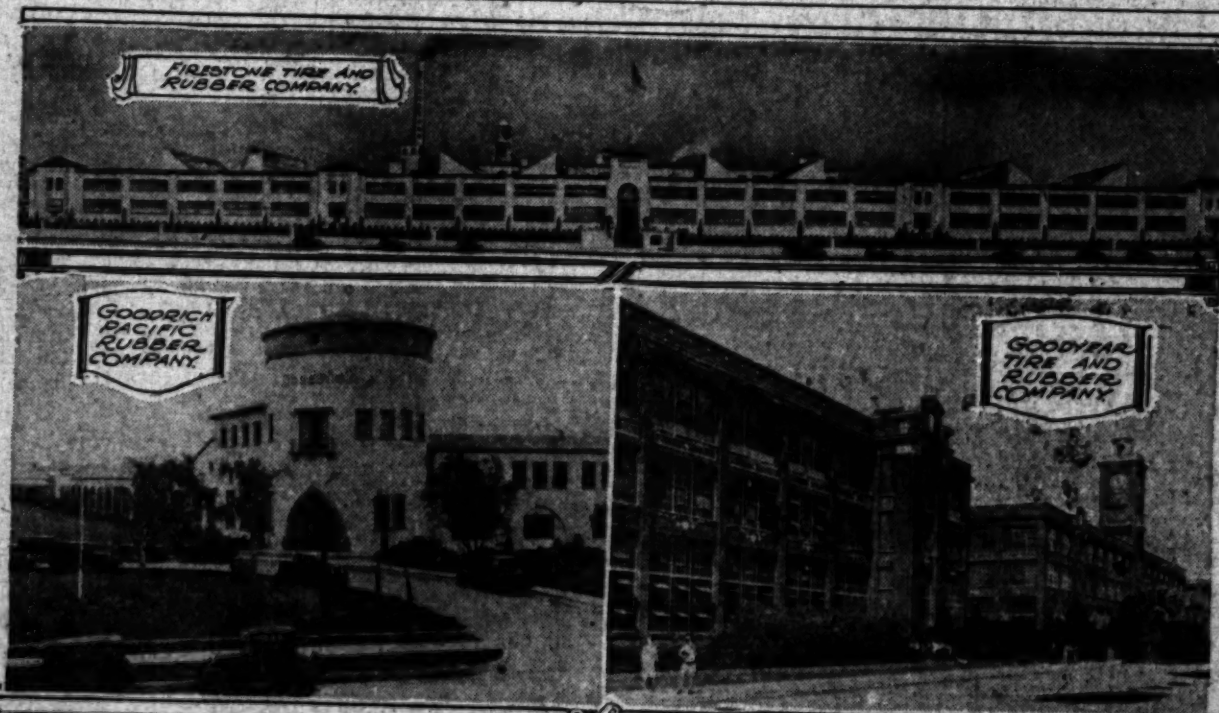

FACT AND COMMENT
EVEN as many years ago as 1894 there was one man who foresaw the glorious future of Los Angeles. The man was Mr. Henry Hancock, a United States surveyor who was making an official survey of the territory. An interesting letter has been unearthed recently in the city archives. It was written by Mr. Hancock to the city of Los Angeles in 1894. The letter reads: "The inexhaustible natural advantages, the beauty of the scenery all have convinced me that Los Angeles should become the home of hundreds of thousands."

It is safe to assume that few residents of that day were so convinced about the city's future as this government surveyor and that the officials in Washington who received the communication were slightly skeptical. So today, when some far-sighted individual tells you that the city's growth is the greatest in the world, you can smile and say: "I have heard that before."

Los Angeles Leads Southern California Seven to One in Recorded County Filings

TRANSACTIONS HERE HALF OF TOTAL IN SOUTHLAND

August Instruments Indicate Trend of Real Estate Activity for Portion of State's Area

August saw 72,503 filings recorded in the eighteen major counties of Central and Southern California, a daily average for the area of 2900 instruments. Los Angeles filings during this period totaled 42,308, or slightly more than 57 per cent of the total for the entire region.

These figures, as compiled by the Security Title Insurance and Guaranty Company, show a steady turnover in real estate all through the Southland.

Analysis of filing records during recent years indicates that approximately a third of the instruments recorded in each county directly involves property transfers. An additional third of the recordings concern real-estate financing operations. The monthly totals therefore are considered as one of the best available criteria for judging the amount of real-estate activity.

Los Angeles county led its nearest competitor, San Diego county, by a margin approximately seven filings to one. In San Diego county during the last month there were 1198 instruments recorded, a slight loss compared with August of last year. San Bernardino county held second place with 533; Orange county was fourth with 118; Fresno county ranked fifth with 108, and Riverside county was sixth with 251.

Thirteen out of the eighteen counties had a record for August of more than 100 instruments.

Among counties ranking fifth in total number of transfers recorded, was that in point of increased activity over August of last year, showing a gain of 283 instruments. In San Luis Obispo there was a gain of 165 over August, 1934. Eight counties were shown by the figures as having more activity in August than in the corresponding month of the previous year.

The following table shows the total for each of the eighteen counties for the month of August of this year and August, 1934.

County	1935	1934
Los Angeles	42,308	41,500

BOARD WILL LEAD GROUP IN STUDIES

Salesmen's Educational Course to be Directed by Realty Advisers

Probably that the Los Angeles Realty Board, a group affiliated with the Los Angeles Realty Board, will have charge of the educational course offered by the board to salesmen employed by its members, was expressed last week by H. R. Bergh, chairman of the advisers.

The matter was discussed at the regular meeting of the advisers and a committee appointed by Bergh will outline the policies of the course. The work sponsored is the regular course of the University of Southern California and will extend over a period of eight weeks. The date for organization of the class will be decided upon at an early date, tentatively set for the early part of October.

A feature of the meeting of the advisers, was the answering of some fifty questions in regard to the questionnaire prepared by the State real estate department, covering covering, by John F. Keogh, vice-president and trust officer of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company.

Firm Reports Active Realty Market Here

The real-estate market in Beverly Hills, according to Paul Rier, sales manager of the Fred Barman Company, has shown decided improvement in the last fifteen days.

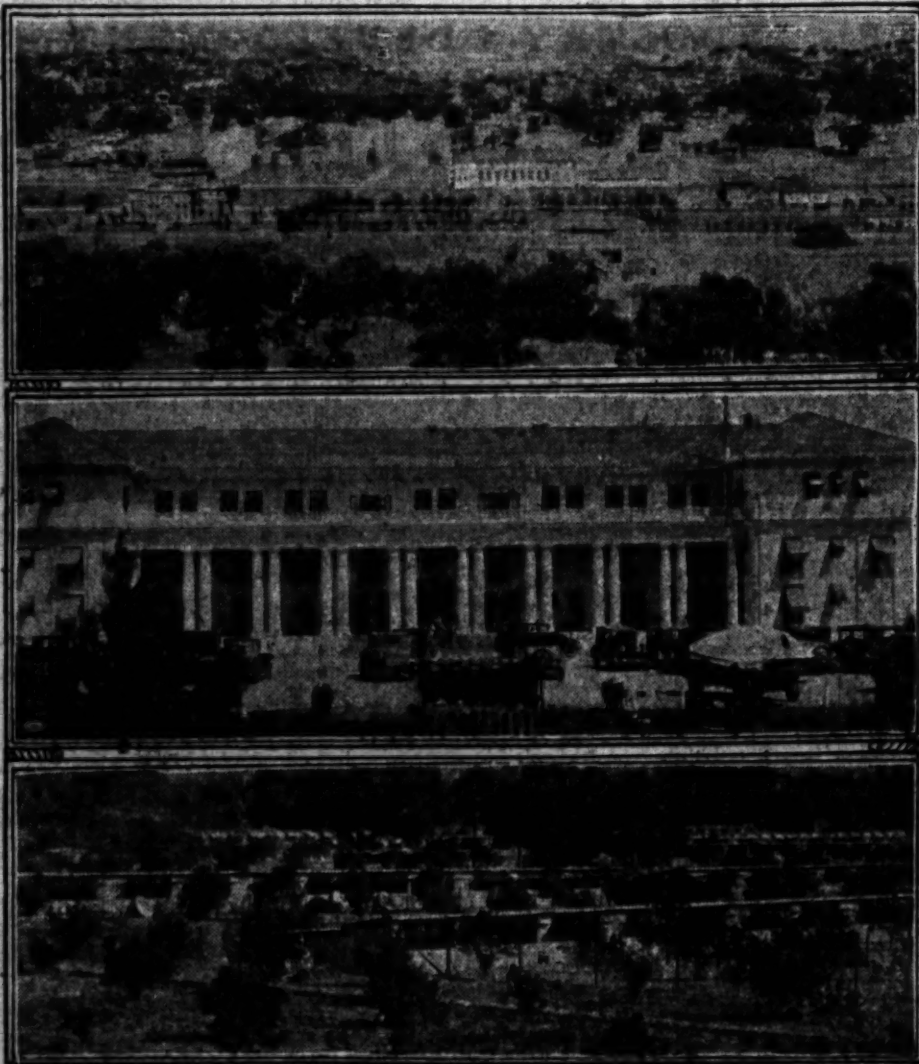

According to Mr. Rier, his firm has sold some fifteen pieces of property in the same number of days. The business activity has been on a high level near the Beverly Hills High School and the southern branch of the University of California.

Business property has come in for its share of activity, particularly on Wilshire Boulevard. This firm has sold a corner lot near Robertson Boulevard in excess of 10,000 per foot, another corner near San Vicente at the same valuation, closed two leases, one to an automobile concern and the other an exclusive shop near the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel. A fifty-foot business lot on La Cienega Boulevard and a 150,000 square foot site near Sunset Boulevard is also reported sold.

Concrete for Building Laid

PHOENIX, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—All the concrete has been poured for the fifteen-story Lührs Building, which is to be the tallest in Arizona. Plasterers have finished on the first five floors. The building is to be completed by November 1, 1935.

SIXTH RAIL LINE HERE DESCRIBED

Rock Products Company Operates Road More Than Thirty-eight Miles

Contrary to popular belief, Los Angeles has six steam railroads, not the five generally referred to as the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Harbor Belt Line and Los Angeles Junction Railway. The sixth could be known as the C. R. P. But although it has many miles of track and more than forty locomotives, it has no name, being the private railroad of the Consolidated Rock Products Company, here.

Reflecting the size of the company, one of the greatest in the world, and the magnitude of its operations, Consolidated Rock owns outright and operates 34.5 miles of standard-gauge lines in and around Los Angeles. Of the total, 19 miles is in plant storage and yard tracks, 5.5 miles in bunker yard tracks, 8.5 miles in pit tracks, and 1.5 miles of right of way. In addition it operates 18 miles of railroad companies spur tracks and 4.5 miles of its own narrow-gauge line tracks.

To handle the large tonnage of rock, sand and gravel which monthly finds its way into Southern California highways and buildings, the company owns and operates twenty-one pit locomotives from six to twelve tons; twenty steam locomotives of from twelve to sixty tons; 250 five to thirty-five-ton pit cars and sixteen sixty-ton plant or bunker cars.

UTILITY TO INSTALL TELEPHONE CABLES

Approximately 7000 feet of telephone cable is being installed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in the southeast section of the Alhambra exchange, at an estimated expense of $45,000. The work includes cable extensions along East Hillman avenue and South Main Boulevard, which will care for recent development in the area. It is planned to have the cable completed by the end of the year.

ATASCADERO IN UPWARD TREND

Community Development Marks Comeback

Enterprise Faced Disaster Few Years Ago

Poultry Proves Mainstay of Area's Industry

BY CHARLES G. COHAN

Atascadero is up and doing and as vigorous now as the sturdy oak of its scenic site half way between Los Angeles and San Francisco on El Camino Real, the Coast highway. This is the same Atascadero that a few years ago was the victim of a financial debacle that almost wiped it out. Now it is a thriving community bred with the spirit of California energy and progress that has set a national pace. Its industrial and other activities and its increased resort and residential attractiveness impressively sum up the story of its recovery.

The poultry industry is the backbone support of this community of upward of 1000 residents. Its 140 poultry plants with an aggregate of about 500,000 hens are at the point where their normal production will bring an estimated gross annual revenue of more than $1,000,000 to the owners. One plant with 60,000 hens is said to be the largest in the world owned by a single organization.

GROWTH PLANNED

The Atascadero Development Syndicate has budgeted a fund for financing the erection of seventy new poultry plants each year for the next five years and in addition it is expected that there will be at least thirty plants put up each year by individuals within the building and then plan of financing aid from the syndicate. Swift & Co. also has large branch poultry and egg-laying farms. Atascadero's monthly payroll of something like $70,000 emphasizes its growth in commerce and industry. It has a number of plant syndicates owned, that has grown in gross annual sales from $7,500 in 1924 to $170,000 last year and a food organization, also owned by the syndicate, which has been built up to $125,000 in gross sales. A prosperous oil industry is under syndicate and private ownership.

Branch stores of three widely known chain-store systems have been opened simultaneously in a newly completed $130,000 structure. The upper story and part of the first floor of the building, at a cost of about $30,000, form an annex for the Atascadero Inn, which occupies a landscaped site of some six acres, represents an expenditure of $200,000 and is one of the most beautiful hotel buildings along the coast section. Fred Bartholomew, its managing owner, has announced that about $50,000 will be expended in erecting bungalows and a swimming pool on an expanse of seven flanking the hotel.

COMMUNITY WELFARE

It is an especially noticeable feature.

Motor Traffic on Boulevard Indicates Gain

Completion of the $140,000 Sunset Boulevard and Myra avenue arch has diverted thousands of automobiles daily to Sunset Boulevard and materially increased the traffic toll of the only cleared artery running through Hollywood.

Automobile detours around the Sunset-Myra grade separation have been abandoned and steps are being taken to hook up Myra avenue with Santa Monica Boulevard on the north in order to relieve the rush-hour traffic congestion at the Sunset-Santa Monica intersection.

James D. Hiddell, civic leader of Hollywood, pointed out yesterday that the new flow of traffic into Sunset made it all the more necessary to hasten the widening of the boulevard to seventy feet between Normandie and Havenhurst, proceedings for which are now under way in the City Council. The Sunset-Vine intersection already is carrying more than 90,000 automobiles every eight hours, Hiddell stated, in urging that the Sunset widening project be accelerated. Over 90 per cent of the frontage between Normandie and Havenhurst have declared for the improvement.

Contract Given for Building Amphitheater

Orwell A. Kohnen, awarded the contract for construction of a new amphitheater in Griffith Park. Work on the structure is to be started soon.

Plans were announced by the construction division of the Griffith Park Foundation under the supervision of L. Glenn Hall, executive director. The plans call for a structure, Class A, with a seating capacity of 10,000. It will be built on a hillside overlooking Griffith Park. The structure will be a permanent building and will be used for the purpose of holding public events.

The Griffith Park Foundation is a non-profit organization which was organized in 1924 for the purpose of maintaining and improving Griffith Park. The foundation has a board of directors and a governing body. It has a large endowment and has been successful in raising funds for its projects. The amphitheater is one of the many projects which the foundation has undertaken. It is expected that the amphitheater will be completed by the end of the year.

AN AGE-OLD DEMAND

Since prehistoric times, eggs have been one of men's chief items of food.

Runnymede mass production of quality eggs supplies an age-old market with the mainstay of life. Millions of wholesome eggs are produced monthly at the World's Largest Poultry Plant. Thousands of retail consumers pay tribute to Runnymede for its choice output. Runnymede has built a great fundamental business that "tops the breakfast world" in production. Hundreds of Southern California people are profiting in actual dollars and cents through Runnymede's success. Southland THIRTY-SIX CITY INCREASE

Construction Expense Stimulated A Balance

Construction figures for the Southland total $121,250,000 in excess of the same period in direct contrast to the slight decline in cities where building is appreciably.

Thirty-six Southland cities have contributed to the general construction boom for the year to date. In the communities whose building-permit totals for the first nine months register higher than the same period in 1934 are Los Angeles, Long Beach, Beverly Hills, Pasadena, Alhambra, San Bernardino, Claremont, South Gate, San Jose, Culver City, Compton, Santa Monica, Palmdale, Lancaster, Van Nuys, Covina, Fontana, Anaheim, San Fernando, Visalia, Whittier, Bell, San Gabriel, Burbank, Ontario, Monterey Park, Azusa, Glendale, Lindero, San Dimas, El Centro, Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton, and Santa Clara. In itself proved rather a boon month for many of the Southland cities, with totals showing a marked increase over the corresponding period of last year.

Los Angeles proper was no exception to the rule and for the first month in many no large permits were recorded.

Reports from the office of J. J. Jones, City Building Commissioner, show that September is witnessing a revival of activity in all building work and that the fall months should bring a marked increase in building activity.

Southland Building Shows Gain for First Eight Months of Year

SIX CITIES RECORD INCREASES IN FIGURES

Construction Experts Here Predict Stimulated Activity for Balance of Year

Construction figures for the first eight months of 1929 show a substantial gain for the Southland building industry. The total value of construction work in the six cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Portland, Seattle, and Sacramento, for the first eight months of 1929, was $1,511,112, which is approximately 10 per cent more than for the same period of 1928. This condition is a marked contrast to the situation in many of the Northern California cities where building for the year to date has fallen off.

HOLLYWOOD SHOWS GAIN IN BUILDING

Half City's Permits for Month Declared Issued to Film Colony

Hollywood building permits for August totaled $2,797,681, which is more than 80 per cent of total permits granted in all Los Angeles during that month, according to D. E. Lane, chairman, Hollywood Branch, Los Angeles Realty Board.

HOME EXTERIOR HELD FEATURE

Plan Held Attraction in Appearance

Garden Well Used in Forming Front Patio

Building Cost Estimated at About $5500

BY THEODORE A. KOETZEL
An exterior of unusual attraction and view is presented in this design by Edward F. Fuller, architect, an expert at the Small House Plan service organized under the auspices of the Los Angeles Architectural Club for the purpose of making plans of six rooms or less, of architectural merit, available to the public.

Influenced by the limitations of the standard fifty-foot lot, Mr. Fuller nevertheless has successfully broken away from the stereotyped. One of the features of the plan is the use of the garden well to form the patio in front, serving as the introduction to the house, and screening the living room from the street, this patio affords a place to be lived in. And from the living room a further vista opens to the covered porch and the garden beyond so that there is an unbroken chain of interest from room to room.

The limitations of the lot compel the sacrifice of what would be convenient in the kitchen in order to reserve space for acceptable proportions for the living room. In a three-room house the kitchen would be a compromise; in one of five rooms while not ideal, the arrangement is practical. Or, in order to save a passage from the kitchen to the living room, the breakfast room might be eliminated. In many cases, however, it is quite possible and desirable to make a small detached dining room serve all purposes with considerable economy in investment and service.

There are 1275 square feet of floor area in the house and the garden, which could probably be kept within $5500.

Some day, Los Angeles will be the home of many millionaires, that every piece of real estate in the county will increase many times in value, do not consider him an over-enthusiastic visionary.

His argument is as sure of coming true as was that long-ago prediction of King Croesus.

Considering Our Climate
The West is beginning to realize the value of money matters, that every piece of real estate in the county will increase many times in value, do not consider him an over-enthusiastic visionary.

It is a luxurious new athletic club to be constructed in Detroit, man-made sunshine will be furnished 365 days out of the year for the use of the swimming pool, and the restrooms. Giant ultra-violet-ray machines are being installed in the summer and winter in the glow of artificial rays.

For the many days of summer, balmy breezes, rivaling those of the Pacific Coast, will cool the bodies of players, and in the winter months of winter an elaborate air-conditioning system will continue to produce balmy weather.

Visits of these easterners to the Pacific Coast have convinced them that the health, happiness and contentment of the California people are in a large measure due to natural climatic conditions and they have called on industrial and electrical engineers to reproduce it as nearly as possible.

The one unfortunate part of the situation is that the process will probably be too costly to be installed in individual homes and that while California can rival in perfect climate twenty-four hours a day, the easterner must confine this privilege to the few hours daily that he can spend in a specially equipped building.

Fighting Discrimination
The construction industry, declares Thomas Horne Flanagan, president of the Associated General Contractors of America, is second only to agriculture in size, age and discrimination.

With his claim to these three distinctions there seems to be little argument. The construction industry's program in 1928 totaled approximately $7,000,000,000. That settles the matter for a time.

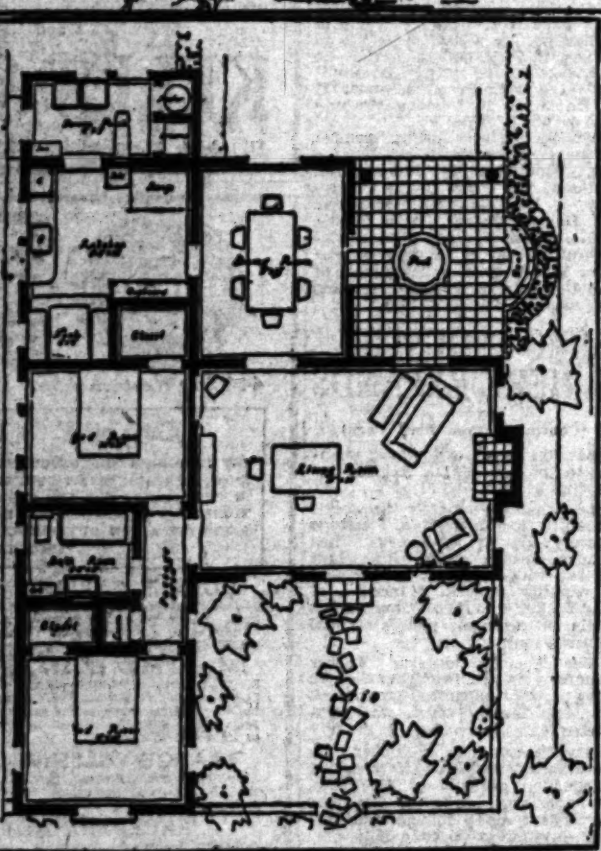

It is probable that prohibition, after he had filled his stomach, turned to finding a place of shelter. That would establish the age of the industry.

As to discrimination, there seems little doubt but that both architecture and construction are battling under a marketing system that fails to give a fair and adequate return.

For his medical, legal services and his lawyer's man will give the best that the market affords, almost regardless of price. When he builds a house he gives the job to the contractor that guarantees to do it cheapest.

The construction industry flows a long, bitter fight to educate the public in this regard but if it can convince the prospective builder that he cannot get something for nothing and that he should be willing to pay a fair price for an honest contracting job, the majority of its problems will be solved.

INCUMBRANCES Part II
In the first article on incumbrances we noted that there might be many incumbrances against your property besides the usual ones such as mortgages, trust deeds, taxes, liens, etc. Incumbrances which may attach to your property are those known as liens, which in turn may be either specific or general. We mentioned three or four of each kind. We also listed some incumbrances which were not liens in a true sense, but were simply limitations on ownership. We found that judgments and attachments were liens in the true sense.

DECEDENT'S DEBTS
A decedent's debts is another incumbrance which comes in the category of liens. Such debts are paid from the real property left by the decedent and out of property which has not been bequeathed under his will. Only so much of the decedent's real property is sold as will satisfy the debts, if there is not sufficient personal property. It should be noted, however, that decedent's debts are not liens on property sold by order of Probate Court, in which case the purchaser takes the property free of any claims against the decedent's estate.

Other incumbrances which are not legally liens include: (1) Restrictions, reservations and dedications; (2) governmental regulations, and (3) easements. Restrictions, reservations and limitations cover very much the same ground and, generally speaking, may be classed under two heads: Covenants and conditions. They are often used indiscriminately, but at law there seems to be a difference. Covenants are usually more severe in their effect. Should you fail to fulfill a condition, forfeiture is often the result, while in case of a covenant the only remedy against the violator is an action for damages or an injunction.

Among conditions may be mentioned that property must be used for residential only, that buildings must be set back a certain number of feet from the front of the lot line, that premises must not be used or occupied by any one not of the Caucasian race, etc. Courts do not like forfeitures. They rightly deem them too severe as a rule and will construe restrictions set forth in deeds, etc., as being covenants unless it is unmistakably indicated that conditions were intended.

COVENANTS DESCRIBED
A covenant is in the nature of a contract or agreement incorporated in instruments pertaining to real property in which the parties to the covenant agree to do or not to do certain things. For instance, that the property shall be used for a drug store, or schoolhouse only; that no fence shall be more than a certain number of feet high, etc. A condition may refer to the same restriction as a covenant, but differs

LICENSING OFFICIALS WILL MEET

Representatives in Western States Will Assemble at Realtor Convention

A meeting of real-estate license officials of western states will be held at the silver jubilee of the California Real Estate Association to be held in San Diego in October. Discussion to be devoted largely to the matter of supervision of projects which relate to the setting of farm lands, with the thought that the subdivision and sale of any considerable area of such lands should be carefully supervised by some agency of the state and the plan and method carefully investigated, and if the plan were not economically sound the project should be stopped before innocent purchasers became involved.

As California has made considerable progress in this line through various amendments to the Real Estate Act, it has been suggested by officers of the State association that a representative of the real estate commissioner's office from each of the western states meet with the California commissioners during the Realtor convention.

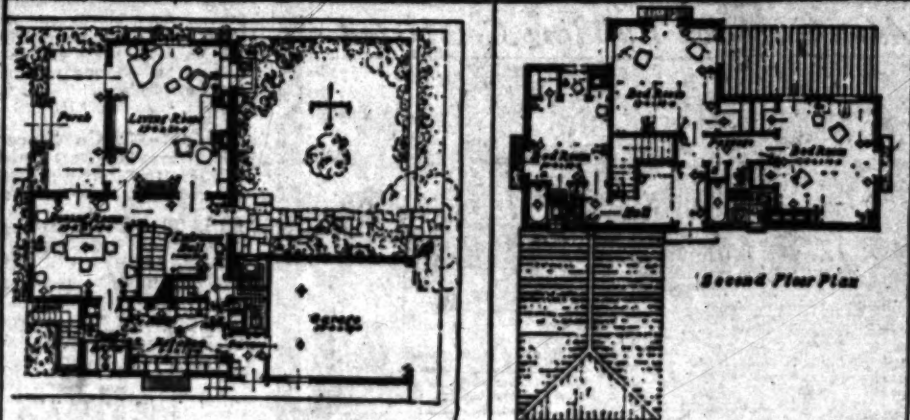

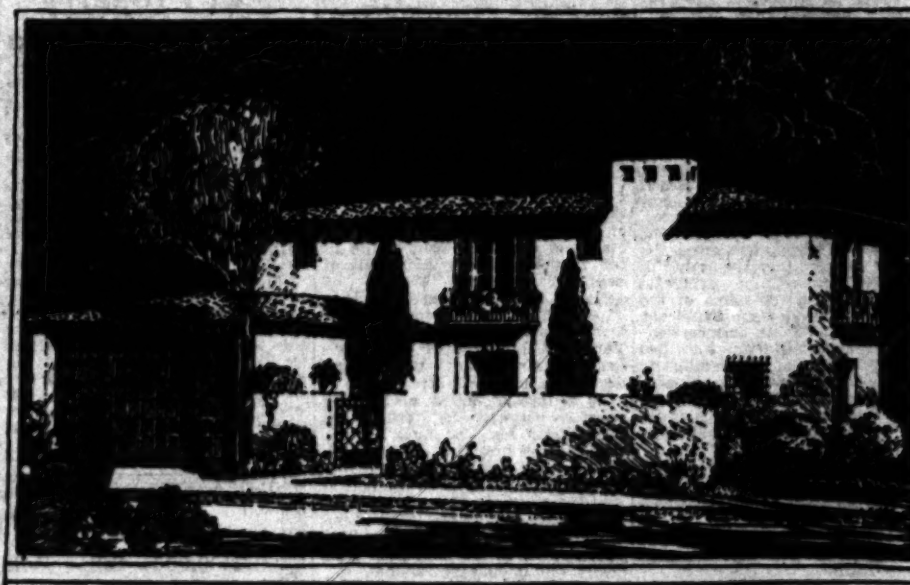

All license law officials of Arizona, British Columbia, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington, have been invited to attend the conference.

The delegates attending the annual convention of the Northwest Real Estate Association at Salem, Or., unanimously passed a resolution urging that the governors of Idaho, Oregon and Washington, States represented in that association, send a representative of their respective licensing departments to the California meeting to discuss uniformity of the law relating to the activities of the real estate agents and all who are concerned in the development of the Pacific Coast States.

TELEPHONE COMPANY BEGINS PLANT ANTEX

Work has been begun by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company on the construction of a fifty-foot extension and the addition of a fourth floor to the main San Diego telephone building. Approximately $250,000 is to be spent for the extension, which will provide space for additional telephone central-office equipment to care for San Diego's growth.

ADVICE OFFERED ON MORTGAGES

Terms of Instrument Must Be in Writing

Description of Property Declared Vital

Yields Affect All Rights to Land Involved

BY N. B. NELSON

Member of the Los Angeles Bar
In order to create a mortgage in this State it is necessary that its terms be reduced to writing. No particular form is required. To constitute a mortgage it is only essential that words be used which show the intention of the parties to create a mortgage by hypothecating certain real estate as security for the performance of the debt or the performance of some act entailing pecuniary liability.

It should contain the names of the maker, who is called the mortgagor, and the person for whose benefit it is made, who is called the mortgagee. It should also contain the amount of the loan, and a promise to pay the same. The promise to pay is usually included in the mortgage. A mortgage should be dated, but a failure to date the same is not fatal to it, as a mortgage takes effect upon its delivery to the mortgagee, or his agent. The date, however, is important in fixing the time of payment of the mortgage, and the time of the obligation secured by the mortgage.

DESCRIPTION NEEDED
The property mortgaged should be described by its legal description if possible. However, any description which will identify the land with some degree of certainty is sufficient. A mortgage which contains no description of the property sought to be mortgaged, or where the description is so vague that it cannot be ascertained the specific parcel of land is involved. The mortgage usually contains a clause giving the holder thereof the right to accelerate the time of payment by reason of the default of the mortgagor of certain conditions provided for, such as the nonpayment of taxes or assessments, or of any installment of interest.

A requisite to every mortgage is the necessary parties. There can be no mortgage without a mortgagor and a mortgagee specified therein. If there be no mortgagee, and the mortgage is made to a mere fictitious person, the mortgage is a nullity. But if there is a person in existence and identified, and delivery is made to him, it makes no difference by what name he is called. A person may assume one name for one occasion, and a mortgage executed and delivered to him under such name is valid. Where a mortgagor names a person in existence but who has no knowledge of the mortgage, and who does not authorize the use of his name, and to whom delivery is not made, such mortgage is invalid. Without a delivery of the mortgage, it does not take effect or create any lien upon the land described in it. Delivery is just as essential to the validity of the mortgage as is the signing of the same by the mortgagor.

LIEN RESTRICTIONS
A mortgage lien is a specific lien upon the property described therein. Unless restricted by the terms of the mortgage, the lien covers all of the right, title and interest in the land hypothecated thereby. The lien is consecutive with the actual debt secured, and not the actual date of consideration.

Home Builders' Primer

By REX AVON

Question: Our home is still structurally sound after five years but the exterior stucco is developing cracks and pores which we wish to have treated before the winter rains start. Can you prescribe some remedial measure which is effective and inexpensive?

Answer: There is available a protective paint which is damp-proof and prevents erosion of surfaces exposed to sun, wind and moisture. A good painting contractor will explain how this protective coating may be successfully applied, filling the pores and cracks and forming an enduring bond over the surface.

Q: What is my equity in a home which I purchased for $5000—paying $500 down and $40 per month, with interest at 7 per cent. Have made ninety-two payments up to the present time.

A: A recent development is a rough-textured asbestos shingle which comes in random widths and is laid in irregular courses. A note of character is obtained by the use of assorted colors, such as green, buff, gray, red, brown and purple.

Q: For the roof of our new home, we intend to have something different than the usual kind, with its unbroken lines and lines. What would you suggest?

A: The heavy beams placed on foundation walls to form a level bearing surface and a bottom tie for up-rights. 2. The heavy beams supporting the joists and studs at interior partitions. 3. The beams to support the floor joists. 4. The vertical framing members of walls and partitions.

Q: Can you supply the names of a few varieties of hardwoods available for interior finish and cabinet work?

A: The growing demand for rare hardwood of unusual colorings and grain has been met by local producers with the following: Flamed red gum, black walnut, tobacco mahogany, primavera, puma costa, guile, langka and oak.

Q: I am a new owner and intend to build a home when I select a suitable lot. What procedure would you recommend?

A: First consult a realtor, who will give you authoritative advice as to taxes, assessments, restrictions, zoning ordinances, etc. The question of location depends upon the proximity of transportation, parks, schools, fire and police protection. Study carefully "Ten Suggestions for Lot Purchasers" as compiled by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

(Questions of this nature will be answered and illustrated literature sent gratis if queries are addressed to Rex Avon, Real Estate Editor of The Times.)

Life Insurance Firms Approve Realty Loans

Mortgage Securities Attract Funds

Invested by Life Insurance Companies Which are Required by Legal Restrictions to Seek Places for Their Money Which are Regarded as Unusually Safe

Approximately 40 per cent of assets of the principal insurance companies of the United States are invested in securities based on real estate as protection from loss, according to an estimate made by Greenbaum from Insurance Company. These companies own approximately $1,000,000,000 of real estate and city property out of which amounting to approximately $700,000,000. This does not include the large amount of funds of the insurance companies which are invested in bonds.

Railroad stocks and bonds are $1,250,000,000 and are held by the insurance companies. Such holdings are about 18.5 per cent of the assets. Policy loans and other miscellaneous investments are $1,000,000,000. Policy loans and other miscellaneous investments are $1,000,000,000.

Money For Building Or Refinancing

A real estate loan, like an investment, should be beneficial to all parties concerned. No loan, however, is genuinely beneficial to the borrower unless economically sound in size, interest rate, initial cost, and method of repayment.

Every realty owner who procures a loan from this Company has the satisfaction of knowing that all the terms and conditions surrounding the loan are fair and equitable and that every phase of the transaction has been properly executed for the safe-guarding of the borrower as well as the lender.

Ready funds in virtually unlimited amounts are available at all times through this Company for first-lien loans on all classes of real estate, either fully improved or in process of improvement, in these three general divisions:

- (1) On Private Homes
Short-term loans at current rates, and three-year loans at 6%, redeemable in easy monthly payments. Building loans may remain outstanding when structures are completed.
- (2) On Flats, Courts, Apartments
Short-term loans at current rates and amortized loans at 6% for building or refinancing.
- (3) On Store and Office Buildings, Industrial Properties and Large Building Operations
Long or short-term loans on very advantageous terms.

Advantages of Long-Term Loans
The amortized form of loan on private residences offers these important advantages:

- (1) A lower interest rate than the usual short-term loan.
- (2) Freedom from the trouble and expense incidental to periodical renewals.
- (3) Fifteen years in which to pay off the loan, with privilege of re-payment for three years without bonus.
- (4) A convenient method of systematic saving.
- (5) Eventual ownership of the property free and clear of encumbrance.

This type of loan is available either to complete residences or for building operations.

Ideal for Systematic Saving
Many home owners who are trying unsuccessfully to save money, are securing term loans on their properties and paying relatively high rates of interest plus the cost of periodic renewals.

On the other hand, many people have solved this problem by carrying fifteen-year loans (at interest) and paying them off at the rate of $20 monthly. On a $4000 loan, for example, this is equivalent to saving $20 per month.

Perhaps your present first mortgage could be advantageously replaced with this form of loan.

MCGROARTY SEES AGUA CALIENTE

bookends, log-rollers and dispensers of knockout drops as though you were at home in your own house, and maybe more so. Agua Caliente is a sleepy town, a drowsy place, a place where the sun is shining, day and night.

Agua Caliente is making money now and making it fast. It will make more and make it faster. It is already a going concern of millions of dollars, and it is growing. It is growing at the rate of $1,000,000 a month in clear profit.

AGUA CALIENTE

The investment already represents an outlay of more than $2,000,000 in hotel buildings, the equipment, the Casino and gardens. Everything is of the utmost elegance. You will not see quite as fine a spectacle of Spanish Colonial architecture anywhere else. In a spot that was just a little while ago a brown desert waste there now grows the eye a green oasis, beautiful as the heart could wish.

All that was necessary to paint this lovely picture was to tap the simple underground waters of the Rio Tijuana. Water, that makes gardens tend to grow, is plentiful here. Clean with desert air, green and sparkling with flowers from the view of open windows; palms that grow almost in a day. Great trees. The scent of blossoms for your nostrils. Maps of water in the desert.

The hotel itself is a stately thing with a vast patio drained out of the soul of the Moors in Spain. The rooms are luxurious, throughout the grounds are beautiful, equally luxurious. Altogether there is at present accommodation for about 400 guests as lodgers. By Christmas this capacity will be nearly doubled. Everything is of the best. The quality traveler.

NEW SEDAN ANNOUNCED

Dodge, this week, announces for the first time since coming under the supervision of the Chrysler engineering department, a two-door sedan. While they are still adhering to the Dodge Brothers policy of not bringing out a new line each year, this model is a distinct departure from other models in that it is their first two-door sedan job in several years.

Selling for approximately $15 less than the corresponding sedan with four doors, the Thompson-Dodge-Jarrett Company, local Dodge dealers, point out that the new model is typically a Dodge product. The chief difference from the latest Dodge sedan models lies in the seating arrangements with the necessary body changes. It is mounted on the standard Dodge chassis, has the same wheelbase, four-wheel hydraulic brakes, eight-inch frame and high-compression motor as the other cars in the line.

It looks as though all we can do is to stand at the doorway and watch the parade.

Sitting on the fence in my sovereign capacity as a newspaper reporter, I would be inclined to back the guess that Agua Caliente is sitting pretty safe and tidy as it now is. It stands to stack up money as fast as a hot iron.

ROAD HARD SURFING

The connecting road between the United States and Mexico, Highway No. 25, via the Blackwell-Corner and the Blackwell-Corner, is now being constructed by the United States and Mexico.

OVERARM STROKE GIVEN IN SWIM LESSON

Then followed faster swimming strokes including the Australian and American crawl.

On the first count of the single overarm, the legs should be kept together, knees unbent, with the upper arm straight at side and the lower arm extended forward. Now, remember to pull downward with the under arm.

At this point the difference between the side stroke and the single overarm is shown. Instead of keeping the upper arm below the surface of the water during the alternate arm pull, this arm reaches above the water, forearm relaxed, and the elbow is elevated high enough to permit the hand advancing in a direct line to a position a few inches from the head. Do not draw up legs until upper arm is in position for the "pull."

Now, draw the legs up about six inches, knees and ankles touching each other, with upper leg extended forward and under leg extended backward. The legs should not be more than twenty-four inches apart.

The legs are now drawn together suddenly. The upper arm, which was in position a few inches from the head, pulls downward in the water, reaching the side, while at the same time the under arm reaches straight forward, ready for the next stroke.

The body is now in a straight line again, and ready for the next stroke.

One common fault is to draw up the legs while the upper arm is reaching for its position above the water. The legs should not be drawn up until the upper arm is ready to pull, since otherwise the body would sink slightly, and there would be an awkward arm reach. This in turn would make a jerky series of motions out of the naturally smooth and beautiful single overarm.

The keynote of the entire stroke is simply to remember that whenever the lower arm reaches forward, the legs should come together. This also holds true for the side stroke. The breathing remains the same as in the side stroke. That is, inhale through the mouth on the first movement and exhale through the nose as the kick is made.

Pleasure Craft Enjoy City Beach

Fishing is attracting local anglers to the waters of Cabrillo Beach, where good catches are being made.

SHORT OILED DETOUR

On the Ontario-Winerville-River side road a four-fifths of a mile oiled detour will be encountered at Winerville, where an overhead is being constructed across the Union Pacific tracks, states the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In final analysis, if one's trip is not to be a continual rush from beginning to end, there is little excuse for not taking along paraphernalia for golf or tennis. With regard to the latter, the important items of course, are a racket and shoes. One can play in the clothing one wears in the car, unless one drives "dressed up," which is usually on the tour. A sweater will come in handy just as it always does after a few sets of tennis on a hot day.

If one carries anything for his racket, he will not take it on any kind of a trip without a waterproof case and a press.

Golf paraphernalia will include clubs and shoes. Fortunately, it requires no special precaution to protect it from the weather as in the case of tennis racquets.

If the whole family goes on the trip, father and the boys will find many a moment of pleasant conversation, played upon them, in the most of tennis racquets.

The vacation trip invariably is more delightful if part of the time it requires is given over to indulgence in one's favorite sport or sports. It is well to bear this fact in mind in marshaling the equipment to be taken along. It is a sports-loving country and the facilities that have grown up as a result are everywhere and of a high order.

SEQUOIA PARK ROAD UNIT COMPLETED

Work on the section of the road beyond Lodge Pole in Sequoia National Park has been completed by W. A. Hechtel of San Francisco, contractor in charge, who has withdrawn all his machinery and broken camp. This unit completes the road to nearly a mile from Hildred Meadows, leaving the bridge over Marble Fork River and one over Clover Creek and a culvert at Stillman Creek yet to be built to make it ready for travel.

DEEP FISHING SUPPLIED BY COMMISSION

Playground Department Provides Facilities for Los Angeles Anglers

Cabrillo Beach—where one of the most unique oceanic playgrounds on the Pacific Coast has been developed by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Commission—is today well on its way toward becoming an important center for anglers specializing in deep-sea fishing, now that this sport has been definitely established at the big barrier recreation beach through a concession recently granted by the commission to F. W. De Long.

From the end of the new Cabrillo pier De Long has started regular daily fishing excursions to the famous Horsehoe Banks, which lie four miles southeast of San Pedro breakwater lighthouse. The trip is made in the Merry D, a forty-two-foot boat, equipped with tackle, live bait and all necessities for the fisherman. The Horsehoe Banks are noted for their profusion of barracuda, calico bass, halibut, rock cod and other varieties of deep-sea fish. In order to give visitors to Cabrillo Beach the opportunity of enjoying fishing at little cost, the commission has required De Long to make the very lowest charge for the use of his boat, and as a result the popularity of this sport is rapidly increasing at Cabrillo Beach.

The addition of fishing has rounded out the list of recreational activities now available at Cabrillo. Reclaimed from the bed of the ocean through the depositing of 1,000,000 cubic yards of sand upon what was previously a rocky and forbidding stretch of coastline, this beach has been developed in two years into a seaside playground rich in recreational assets. Nearly a mile of beach has been built up inside the curve of Point Fermin, divided almost equally by the great harbor breakwater. As a result surf bathing is possible on the outward side of the big sea wall and still-water bathing on the inside.

In the shelter of the breakwater the Cabrillo bathhouse was completed this year, establishing a center for amateur boating activities of many kinds. Rowing, canoeing, motor boating and yachting and other forms of salt water boating are now the recreation of the general public, as well as the yacht club members, due to this development. Many boating enthusiasts have taken to building their own craft, storing them in the city-owned bathhouse or anchoring them in the adjacent protected anchorage.

Hunters in Districts to Open 16th Inst. 'Should Have No Trouble in Bagging Game'

The deer season of the most interest to California riflemen at large will open a week from tomorrow, the 16th inst., in districts 1, 1A, 4 1/2 and 4. These districts comprise the largest part of California. Next Saturday will bring the deer season in district 2 and 3 1/2 to a close. These two districts are made up of the central coastal counties, including Santa Barbara and Ventura.

The majority of the shooters will go to the High Sierras, where deer have been abundant in former seasons. The routes usually taken are up through Owens Valley and then packing in from Little Lake, Cowan Station, Olancha, Long Pine, Independence, Big Pine and from points beyond Bishop.

A great many hunters no doubt will migrate to Kernville, where they will have easy access to splendid deer-hunting grounds, declares Pete Peterson, hunting and angling authority for the Dyes Store.

"On the west slopes of the High Sierras, packing in may be made from Camp Nelson, Hume, Huntington Lake and Mineral King," said Peterson. "The reason hunters pre-

Due to the recent Superior Court decision, declaring invalid the Los Angeles county emergency ordinance forbidding the carrying or discharging of firearms in certain areas of the county as a means to check forest fires, hunters will again plan to hunt deer closer to home than the High Sierras, or in such old favorite locations as the Santa Monica Mountains and the outskirts of Game Refuge No. 4-C, or the desert side of the Sierra Madre Mountains, also the San Bernardino Mountains outside of Game Refuge No. 4-D. There should be some good deer hunting in San Diego, too.

VACATION PLANS LEAD TO OPPOSITE ENDS OF STATE

(The following vacation plan submitted by Miss Dorothy L. Edmonds, 425 North Vista Boulevard, Encinitas, in the Times Vacation Survey, but was awarded the prize offered by the Hotel Del Coronado. The prize is a board and room for a day for two at the Hotel Del Coronado.)

BY DOROTHY L. EDMONDS
Uniquely in interest both historically and scenically is vacation auto tour along the breezy coast south of "the city" and its breathless warmth. What could be more refreshing than days in the sunny air, racing smoothly along a white ribbon of pavement within sight of the sparkle of an azure sea? Such is the route one might travel along the southern coast.

After several hours of exhilarating speed along the highway, a turn to the left under a viaduct at Capistrano Beach and a drive of three miles bring one to San Juan Capistrano and the Mission. Situated in the hills midway between Los Angeles and San Diego, it is considered the most elaborately decorated and artistically constructed of the California missions.

RETURN TO MISSION
Returning to the highway, a few more hours brings one to the progressive little city of Oceanside. A five-mile detour to the north from the center of the business district brings the tourist to the San Luis Rey Mission. On the way to Oceanside again, a white chapel may be noted on a hillside, surrounded by a view of the valley. The Franciscan Fellowship may be visited and it is well worth while to view the San Luis Rey Valley from before the chapel.

The Torrey Pines Lodge and Turkey Pines are the next point of interest. They are the only spas of the state. In the latter, the States and were named after their discoverer.

It is now but a few miles to the little city of La Jolla, perched on a promontory over the sea. Of interest here are the seven caves. La Jolla is such a pleasant city that one might spend a whole summer here in the quiet yet congenial atmosphere.

MISSION BEACH is the next notable feature. This beach, with its pleasant atmosphere, may well be called San Diego's Long Beach.

SAN DIEGO ON BAY
San Diego with its Crescent Bay offers many attractions. One highway entering the city passes the Maritime Plaza. This is the only Spanish Grandee's home in the United States. It is picturesque in its architecture, the display of the building is a masterpiece of old Mexican Carvings, the Spanish Oven, and the Patio.

On the outskirts of the city there is the United States Naval Training Station. Points of scenic beauty are the Sunset Cliffs and Point Loma. Balboa Park with its gardens, its exhibition buildings, new museum, and the largest of its kind in the world, attracts the visitor to return.

The Mission de Alcala is located in the Mission Valley, six miles northeast of the city of San Diego. It was the first mission founded by the order of the Franciscans.

VARIED ADVANTAGES
The advantages of this vacation trip are varied. It may be in the nature of a camping trip, since convenient sites are numerous; again, it may be a continuous tour, spending the nights at cottages or hotels; or it may be centralized at some one beach, such as Capistrano, La Jolla, or Mission Beach, from which the trip can easily be made. The vacation may last a week, or as long as fancy dictates. It is always convenient for one who enjoys swift traveling. A great advantage is that the trip is easy to make, since the highway is one of the best imaginable and there are no worrisome grades to climb.

The expense of such a trip is comparatively small. Following is a suggestion of the costs:
Automobile, 10 days, $100.00
Gasoline, 10 days, $25.00
Cottages for two at $2 a day, 14 days, $28.00
Cottages for three or four, 14 days, $42.00
Board, 14 days, $14.00
Housekeeping, 2 to 4 persons, 14 days, $28.00
Incidental, per person, 14 days, $2.00

REDLANDS, Sept. 5. (Continued) Manufacturers of Chicago, New York and other eastern cities are to be interviewed by H. A. Johnston, local inventor and designer of a new type of internal combustion engine, during a trip which he has just started.

He has had a large number of inquiries about the engine and its adaptability for use in lawnmowers, concrete mixers, tractors and other machines. It is not adapted for the passenger type of automobile.

CAREFUL DRIVING NEEDED
On U. S. Highway No. 101, the road between Los Angeles and San Francisco, there are still big signs of construction at the northern foot of Santa Grade which requires careful driving.

Historic Event to Be Commemorated

(The following plan submitted by Mr. Warren Johnson, 240 First Street, Pasadena, in the Times Vacation Survey, but was awarded the prize offered by the Hotel Del Coronado. The prize is a board and room for a day for two at the Hotel Del Coronado.)

BY WARREN JOHNSON
Study of a map will show that the daily drives are of moderate length on this route. Country roads, especially those in the mountains, are most attractive when the shadows are long—i. e., in the morning and late afternoon hours. This trip is planned accordingly. Those wishing to spend extra time can easily do so by lengthening the drives south of Sacramento.

FIRST DAY
Leave Los Angeles over San Fernando Boulevard. Eight miles beyond San Fernando, note old road, right. Made possible by Fremont in 1841, when there was no real road in Alta California.

SECOND DAY
Leave San Antonio, cross Los Angeles Aqueduct (which crosses Joseph Valley, in 1843, buried mill machinery hereabouts, his weakened animals unable to haul it. Back to Los Angeles, cross the aqueduct, 14,501 feet above sea level, 10,000 above the town. For 100 miles, the road follows these fascinating American Indian trails. Owing to their recent (terrestrial) origin, their summits are rough and jagged with the wilderness youth.

THIRD DAY
Thirty-two miles to Bridgeport. Fourteen miles farther are the Hot Springs, where Fremont camped. From here, Fremont traveled down the San Joaquin River, where he entered a beautiful gorge, through which the river flows. Fremont's trail, as it is called, is a beautiful road, through which the river flows. Fremont's trail, as it is called, is a beautiful road, through which the river flows.

FOURTH DAY
Begin with the day Meyer's Creek. Unexcelled lake and mountain views from porch of building at summit. This highway, the most attractive one between Sacramento and Nevada, is a part of the Overland Route, was developed between 1842 and 1843. In 1843, its fortunes as a public road sank nearly to zero, but the opening of the Comstock lode led it into life, and it became one of the outstanding toll-roads in the country. Over it passed the Pony Express, Central Overland Mail, Pioneer and other stage lines, and freighters. (In eight weeks (1863), 2772 trains drawn by 14,762 animals, carried 2,000,000 pounds of freight, for example.)

FIFTH DAY
Swan & Co., carrying the twenty miles of the road, received $500,000 per year above cost of maintenance. Hotels averaged two every three miles, while the traffic often resembled a parade.

SIXTH DAY
Note small stone mile-post, given by Fremont. (For historical information on sign-posts is authentic. The original Sportsman's Hall burned some thirty years ago, but the original here is still standing. Insulators occasionally seen on tree trunks, carried the first transcontinental telegraph cable, helping to retain the Pony Express. The Placeville postoffice stands on the spot where the execution of two thieves on a tree in 1846, gave the place its name of "Hanging Tree." Population, 1930, 6000.

SEVENTH DAY
At Sacramento, visit Butler's Fort. E. street at Turner. The central building is the original, restored; the others, recent replicas. Fifth day: Through Stockton and Merced to Modesto.

EIGHTH DAY
To Los Angeles. One person, camping; four-cylinder car; seven days: Gasoline (city-four gallons, 1010 miles) $14.24; lubrication, $2.40; repairs, $1.24; camp fees, $2; groceries, $2.01; personal, $2.62. Total, $28.51.

FIGURES OF RECENT TRIP
Each additional person (food estimate, $2).

SCHOOL MARM
Mrs. Myrtle Workman, "the flying school marm," who recently was announced the winner of the All-American College contest, has completed her primary course at flying instructions at the Aero Corporation of California and returned this week to San Diego to resume her teaching at the San Diego College.

PAVED ROAD CONTINUOUS
Paved road is now continuous between Glendale Beach and Arroyo Grande via Oceanside, except for the overhead bridge at Oceanside, which is being replaced by a concrete bridge, the project submitted from the States of California, Arizona and New Mexico, the subject of creating air-mindedness.

CRATER LAKE PARK WATCHED
The boundaries of Crater Lake National Park are being patrolled on horseback. Park regulations on camping and hunting will be strictly enforced, and any infringement will be prosecuted.

DETROIT UNNECESSARY
Construction is now in progress on the Box Springs grade between Riverside and Perris, where preparations are being made for new paving. No detours are necessary, but careful driving will be in order as construction equipment will be encountered on the highway from time to time, according to information received by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Coaches Worry Their Lines

Striff May Be Lost to Oac Eleven

OREGON STATE COLLEGE (Corvallis) Sept. 7.—Word has been received here from Los Angeles that Russell Striff, a letter man who has played and on the Oregon State team the past two years, may not be in condition to play football this season. Striff has been suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism and is at present confined to his bed.

Striff's present condition makes it impossible for him to report here for the opening of football practice September 14. He is considered as having an outside chance of being in trim toward the end of the season should he return to college.

BAECHT HURLS EASY TRIUMPH

Seattle Held to Five Hits by Seraph Slabster

Berger Hits Two Homers as Lelivelt Crew Cops

Cherubs Now But One Game Out of First Place

BY BOB RAY

Ed Baecht, the Philadelphia cast-off who seems determined to show up his Quaker City bosses, turned in another brilliant pitched victory for the Angels yesterday when he limited Seattle to five scattered hits and chalked up a 12-2 triumph.

Baecht, who hasn't yielded more than eight hits in any of his last six starts, didn't need to work as hard as he did yesterday for his triumph.

His mates found the offerings of two Seattle slabsters for eighteen safeties and had the victory sewed up as early as the third inning.

In that vicious third frame, the Cherubs landed on Lefty Lelivelt for seven retching singles and chased seven six runs to top the interest from the orange-clad team.

Baecht, however, had been provided the final punch for the rally when he decided to drive home two runners.

This Baecht person now looks like the best pitching prospect in the league and Angel officials are confident that they picked up a future major league star when they signed up Ed after he had been cast adrift by the Phillies.

The Phils' trying need at present to release Baecht is one of the current mysteries of the national pastime.

BERGER HITS TWO OVER

Walter Berger helped Baecht achieve his victory by hammering out two home runs and a double in five trips to the plate. Both of Berger's homers came with a man on and his two-bagger drove in the first Angel tally.

As a result of their victory yesterday, the Angels gained a half-game on first place, which

THE DOCTOR'S NEMESIS

HITCHCOCK POLOISTS COP TILT

Tommy Plays Star Role as His Sands Pointers Defeat Greentrees

WESTBURY, (N. Y.) Sept. 7. (P.) Tommy Hitchcock rode wild today as Sands Point swept into the final round of the national open polo tournament on the crest of a 14-9 triumph over Winston Greentrees.

Guests' crack Greentrees quartet in the second semifinal.

Sands' Point now will clash with Stanford's Anglo-American Hurricane in the final round on Wednesday.

The Hurricane, drawing a first round round-off, eliminated Rodlyn in a thrilling twelve-chukker match in the first semifinal last Wednesday.

The story of today's match is a story of Hitchcock. The dashing American Internationalist, only ten-goal player in the country, accounted for seven goals himself and aided in the tallying of several others by Earl A. S. Hopping and W. Averell Harriman.

In the face of Hitchcock's great riding and superb mallet work, Greentrees hardly threatened. Guest, roll center teammate, John Gray Whittier and the Californians, Eric hit that tree on the fourteenth and rolled down on the green. My greatest thrill was when I made the fifteen-foot putt on the second extra hole to stay in the championship. George got in trouble and I won the next hole—but it was the most exciting match that I can recall, especially from my standpoint.

Dr. Willing is a great golfer. I knew the only way I could beat him was to play better golf and I certainly tried hard today. It takes a certain amount of good golf—and a lot of good breaks, to win from a player like Dr. Willing. He is one of the most dangerous match-play golfers I have ever met. Just beating him is an honor in itself. To have won the national amateur championship from him is quite an achievement, if you ask me.

I still can't help feeling sorry about Bobby Jones. He would have been at his best here today. Bobby is more than a golfer—he is a real institution. Bobby never fails to have a word of encouragement for all of us and being beaten by Bobby Jones is just like winning from anyone else.

I can't tell you how great an honor I consider it to win this championship that really belongs to Bobby Jones. You see there are a flock of us—a half a dozen at least—who are about the same class, but we are all on full step behind Bobby. He is the greatest golfer in the world and even the thrill of winning this championship will not forget that I was behind him that first round match.

With Bobby out of the tournament, it developed into a wild scramble to find out who was the second best amateur.

My hardest match of the week was with George Voigt. I'll never forget that match. I was behind most of the day and I guess I did get a lucky break when my ball

JOHNSTON, 33, WINS 33RD TOURNEY ON 33RD GREEN

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Sept. 7. (P.)—On the broad lawn sloping down to the Pacific, in back of the eighteenth green, Harrison R. Johnston, 33, a St. Paul, Minn., golfer, won the 33rd national amateur golf championship today with a gold medal, a silver medal, and the two semifinalists, Francis Ouimet and H. Chandler Egan, with bronze medals.

The crowd, which had been "on" Dr. Willing during the week for his refusal to concede a point, gave him nearly as great an ovation as it did the winner. Dr. Willing, who had been playing well, had not bothered him and that he took them all as part of the game.

Five former American champions and the present British title-holder, Cyril Tolley, met with Johnston during the cup presentation. The Americans were Findlay Douglas, Francis Ouimet, H. Chandler Egan, Jess Sweetser, and Bobby Jones.

"Jimmy" Johnston, today St. Paul's leading citizen, won the thirty-third national amateur title on the thirty-third hole and at 33 years of age.

Five thousand spectators all tried to shake Johnston's hand at the same time. Most of them were shaking hands with themselves.

Dr. O. P. Willing, runner-up, paid high tribute to Johnston, saying he came through "like a real champion" after playing "ragged golf" in the morning.

The crowd clamored for Jones and he responded with a compliment to Pebble Beach course as "one of the most severe tests of golf the championship has ever been played upon."

Johnston was presented a gold medal, a silver medal, and the two semifinalists, Francis Ouimet and H. Chandler Egan, with bronze medals.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7.—The English Wightman Cup tennis team made a clean sweep of the three matches played today, to make it six straight victories over American players. In today's matches, Mrs. Dorothy Shepherd-Barrow defeated Miss Ruth Bailey of St. Louis, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3; Betty Nuthall and Mrs. Phoebe Watson won over Mary Greif of Kansas City and Midge Gladman of Santa Monica, 6-3, 6-2; while Mrs. B. C. Covell and Mrs. Shepherd-Barrow won from Miss Gladman and Edith Cross of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

headed, white-shirted "Jimmy" Johnston, somewhat sour-looking dentist may have had some influence. Johnston, too, was the youngest of 23, and "Jimmy" was the under dog for the first half of the match. Furthermore, the doctor's known disinclination to concede short putts has found disfavor among the spectators a number of times during the tournament and that, too, appeared a factor in the unusual parsimony of the jostling

Whatever it was, the match witnessed a startling outbreak of cheers at the eighth hole, when Willing missed a shot in a trap and Johnston won his first hole after apparently having tossed it away by putting his second shot over. The cliff to the ocean side again at the sixteenth hole, where St. Paul "Jimmy" really began his uphill fight in victory, scattering cheers about as Willing's second shot trickled over the edge of the green into a trap, from which it took the doctor two to get out.

SPECTATORS GHOAN

Again at the eighteenth, the partisan spirits in the gallery groaned as Willing's approach shot, apparently headed for a trap, just cleared the hazard and made the green. It was on this hole that Johnston made the most magnificent recovery shot of the entire match. He had just cut Willing's lead from three to one hole by taking the sixteenth and seventeenth in succession, but he looked dubious when "Jimmy" pulled his brains over the bank and down to the edge of the ocean. The surf lapped around his ankles as he took his stance, but he cleared the ball within six yards from the green, just short of a trap, from where he snipped dead to the pin for the par 4 that gave him a hole, Willing requiring two putts to get down.

Had Johnston been able to sink at least a half-dozen short putts, ranging from four to eight feet, he would have won the match long before the thirty-third. "Jimmy" was nervous and wild at the start, and

St. Paul today graciously accepted the $100 solid-gold golf trophy that goes with the thirty-third annual national amateur golf championship.

Shouting little white petals instead of confetti, the crowd cheered Johnston as he came from behind to defeat Dr. Oscar P. Willing of Portland, Ore., 4 and 3 in the thirty-third green.

Coming from behind seems to be a habit with Jimmy, who in a quiet and unassuming manner, a better from away back. Never acknowledging defeat, Johnston played the same type of game against Willing today as he played against the third ranking amateur in the United States, George Voigt of New York City, when he defeated him on the thirty-third hole in the quarter-finals.

ST. PAUL GOLFERS

It apparently meant nothing to Johnston that he was 3 down after the first six holes of the match, and still 3 down in the Pebble Beach match at the fifteenth. Starting a rally that netted three consecutive pars, the new champion, cooped two holes to be only 3 down at the halfway point.

Johnston played perfectly the only real golf of championship caliber of the tournament this afternoon, when he earned the final fifteen holes in one over par again and had the usually plodding Dr. Willing, surprising.

PEBBLE BEACH, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Well, you can tell the world that one game golfer won the national amateur championship today. My bet is off to St. Paul, Minn. (Jimmy) Johnston, the Minneapolis and St. Paul golfer who flashed home in front of Dr. O. P. Willing, Portland dentist, 4 and 3, in a truly great golf match.

Dr. Willing let Jimmy I up at the end of the first eighteen holes this morning and Jimmy had to dig deep into his ample store of golfing knowledge—then fight like a real champion to come from behind and defeat one tough golfer.

Jimmy didn't play well this morning—he couldn't use his iron—but he found his game with a vengeance this afternoon. Championship golf is the peculiarly par golf. In hole-by-hole competition, and Jimmy wasn't quite as bad as his morning score of 80 might lead you to believe. He was likewise far better than his near-par golf this afternoon would indicate.

Jimmy is a broke back in his

John Boege of Glendale fell victim to Seward in a quarter-final match of the Junior boys' 18-year-and-under after a hectic three-set scrap, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. In the boys' under 15 Seward advanced to the semi-finals with a triumph over Bob George, 6-2, 6-3.

Seward looks as the most promising boy star in the Southland with the exception of Jay Cobb of Santa Monica, recently crowned national boy king of the courts. Seward has perfect ground strokes and needs only to perfect his service to become a consistent winner.

Topes Farquharson in National Singles Play; Other Favored Stars Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (P.)—Big Bill Tilden began the quest for the national tennis singles championship by crushing his opponent, Donald Strachan of Princeton.

Another American Davis Cup player to come through successfully was William Allen, the former international champion from Texas, who subdued Emmet Pare, Chicago, national clay-court title-holder, by scores of 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Pare, a steady baseliner, pulled up strongly in both the first and third sets, but his rallies came too late. Allen was usually able to settle important points by following his drives or service to the net for volley placements.

First-round summaries:

Julius Seligson, New York, defeated Thomas H. Wilber, Bridgeport, Ct., 6-2, 6-0, 6-0.

Percy Kymaston, Rockville Center, N. Y., defeated J. H. O'Hausen, Philadelphia, 6-7, 7-5, 6-4.

John Miller, New York, defeated E. E. Jenkins, Jr., New York, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

SECOND ROUND (First round loss)

William T. Tilden, Jr., Philadelphia, defeated Julius Seligson, New York, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

Lawrence A. Weiss, Chicago, won by default.

Harrison Johnston, New Amateur Champion, Says Bobby is Step Ahead of Other Golfers; George Voigt Gave Him Hardest Match of Del Monte Tournament

BY HARRISON JOHNSTON National Amateur Golf Champion, 1929

PEBBLE BEACH, Sept. 7.—This is probably the first time in a number of years—three at least, that the greatest amateur golfer in the world hasn't won the national amateur championship.

"BABES" TACKLE TROJAN AND CARD MACHINES

Spaulding Minus Star Backfield Men But Has Strong Array of Line Talent; Frosh Promising

BY FRANK ROCHE

Babes of the conference. That's what they dubbed Bill Spaulding's U.C.L.A. Bruins last year when they entered the "big tent" as the Coast Conference football show is known. "Yeah," moaned Bill Spaulding as he looked over his material for the coming season during the spring practice, "we are the babes of the conference all right and it looks as though we are going to get rocked plenty again this year." That about sums up U.C.L.A.'s football chances for the season of 1928.

Nobody expected anything from the Bruins last season in Coast Conference circles. No one expects much from this season, but if the Bruins don't win all their outside games with Southern Conference teams and others there will be a lot of waiting around the hills of Westwood.

No one expects the Bruins to do anything against U.S.C. Stanford or even Oregon, for that matter.

With the first two, if the Bruins get there on time they will do all right. But they should give Oregon a fight, and in their other big game against Stanford, the Bruins may be good as even money.

The Bruins have a strong line, and their backfield is not as strong as last year's. The Bruins are out to give the Bruins a real battle at that judging from the early days. Eugene Nixon is back to bring a surprise some of the football circles around Claremont.

Spaulding has a good prospect in Leonard Berglund, who quit school last spring. Berglund had all the appearance of a smart football player, but he was not at U.C.L.A. as he was at Santa Barbara. La Brucherie will be missed because of his lightning qualities. Little Bert never knew when he was liked and he missed the same thought last year.

Three very fresh freshmen, as far as experience is concerned, will attempt to fill the shoes of those named above. They are Norman Duncan, 160-pound Santa Barbara boy who will try his hand at the fullback; Earl Field, a transfer from Santa Barbara; and Red Roberts and Eddie Lyons who will be conditioned for the varied half-back positions.

They are Norman Duncan, 160-pound Santa Barbara boy who will try his hand at the fullback; Earl Field, a transfer from Santa Barbara; and Red Roberts and Eddie Lyons who will be conditioned for the varied half-back positions.

Spaulding has a good prospect in Leonard Berglund, who quit school last spring. Berglund had all the appearance of a smart football player, but he was not at U.C.L.A. as he was at Santa Barbara. La Brucherie will be missed because of his lightning qualities. Little Bert never knew when he was liked and he missed the same thought last year.

Three very fresh freshmen, as far as experience is concerned, will attempt to fill the shoes of those named above. NEW BRUIN SKIPPER

Meet Capt. Carl Brown, the husky football youngster who will lead the U.C.L.A. grid warriors in their 1928 campaign. Brown will attempt to hold that line of play for the Bruins followers. He is a tackle and a good one. Coach Bill Spaulding declares. Brown is an all-around athlete, having won honors in track-and-field competition under Bruin colors. He came to U.C.L.A. from Santa Monica High School.

COACH SPAULDING

Figure to lead all of their non-conference rivals with the exception of St. Mary's. Against the Gauchos they are about a toss-up, according to the experts. But Spaulding's verdict should boost over Fresno State, Caltech and Pomona. The Bruins are out to give the Bruins a real battle at that judging from the early days. Eugene Nixon is back to bring a surprise some of the football circles around Claremont.

TIGERS PICKED TO KEEP CROWN

Occidental Favored Over Conference Foes

Bengals Likely to Retain Gridiron Laurels

Eight Members of Squad to Report Again

Just eight more days and Patterson Field at Occidental College will be cluttered with gridiron candidates for Coach Klenholz's 1928 Tiger eleven. The first fall has been issued for the 10th inst. and fully fifty aspirants are expected to appear. Klenholz and his assistants, Bill Anderson, and the Bengals look to retain their conference championship.

They have a tough schedule ahead of them, with four straight conference engagements with Whittier, San Diego, Pomona and Caltech, and not a rest or interval between them. Each of these four foes is something to worry about. Herebefore the Eagle Rock team has succeeded in between them a tilt with Redlands or La Verne.

Klenholz retains eight varsity letter men of the championship 1927 team. Two are ends, Wendell Smith and Capt. Alvin De Hoog. Two are tackles, Edward Swob, an all-conference choice, and Howard Marsh. Two are halves, Glenn Romelle and Bud Collier. Jerry Chappelle, center, and Jack Schuchman, guard. Seven veterans, John Eberhart, back and Ward Schuchman, Al Elton, John Mammal, Walt Coullas and Ted Ellsworth, were lost via graduation.

Replacing the seven losses are several transfers and newcomers. The most outstanding of these are Bill Meyer, Larry Green, Ted Elford and Norman McDonald, all husky, bulky transfers with considerable reputation on the gridiron. In addition, Bob Bie, Harold Wainwright and Dave Snedden, sophomores, and Bill Charnock, Charles Hobbitt, Art Elford, Dick Oliver and others of the 1928 squad.

Klenholz will find his greatest trouble lies in replacing the brilliant Jack Schuchman, at quarterback. Not only was Schuchman one of the headiest of signal barbers, but his educated nose sent the pluckiest scoring at an average of sixty yards throughout the season. Klenholz has not a veteran quarter to replace Schuchman nor an upcoming sophomore or ineligible. He will have to manufacture one from his mass of backfield material.

The scramble for backfield berths will be a keen one what with Glenn Romelle and Bud Collier, letter men returning, opposing the ambitious candidates such as Art Elford, Dick Elford, Steve Johnson and Norman McDonald. The brilliant opening star of the 1927 team will be a half-back, Elford and Collier worked fairly regular last year, but just failed to gain the varsity award. And they do not intend to let the coach of McDonald, the transfer.

Chappelle is certain to be a regular center, being the only veteran man for the post. Beebe is a choice for one tackle post. Howard Angel and Schuchman look like the selections at guards. And the ends are pretty certain to be DeHoog and Smith. One of the backfield candidates will be made into a signal barber, and Romelle, Collier, Howe and Meyer are the probable halves who will see the most action. That's the present imagination.

Oxy's eleven will be almost two weeks of practice before opening the year with one of its three night football games at the home grounds, West Palm Beach, Fla. Its foe is the University of Arizona, Friday night, the 27th inst. Santa Barbara Teachers' College and the University of New Mexico are the second and third night foes of the Tigers, on October 4 and 11, respectively.

A. C. Pillsbury of the A. A. A. announced yesterday that entries for the 100-hp automobile race to be staged at the Long Beach speedway on the 22nd inst. will be accepted starting tomorrow morning. Close to fifty of the fastest cars and pilots in the West, and many others, are expected to seek a chance for the prize money the Legion has hung up for winners in West Palm Beach.

The Legion oval, with Poy Evans supervising, will be completely reconditioned for the forthcoming speed trials. Several loads of oil and gravel will be used in getting the track in shape. Working facilities for the pit crews will also be enlarged upon. This part of the competition being more important in the 100-hp event than it has been during the spring races staged at night.

PAJAMA GOLF ORGANIZED An international pajama golf tournament is being planned at the West Palm Beach municipal golf course, in Florida. Players will appear clad only in "evening dress."

TIGERS HOG BAT CROWNS A member of the Detroit club has carried off the American League batting honors in more than one-half of the seasons since the league was organized twenty-nine years ago. Ty Cobb was the champion.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7.—With the football season all but here, Oregon and Washington loom up as the best teams in the Northwest.

Coach McEwen, who has been in charge of the Oregon State team for several years, is highly touted for his work with the Webfoot squad. He is said to have the best material he has ever had, but the lack of veterans is a serious handicap to the team's chances.

The Webfoot squad is composed of mostly veterans, which is a great advantage for Coach McEwen. He is said to have a very good understanding of the game, and his players are well trained and experienced.

er cause to weep for his roll of eleven missing includes the names of those who have stood out in Washington State football for several years. Here are the Cougars who have departed: Dressel, captain and tackle; Spedick, tackle; Rohrer, quarterback; Moran and MacDonald, halves; Hein, fullback; Graham, center; Chester and Curry, ends; Riley, tackle, and Linden, quarter.

Marine Base
Eleven Faces
Tough Season

One glance at the 1929 schedule of the San Diego Marine Base football team is sufficient to convince the most skeptical that the Leathernecks have bit off a mouthful of big, bad teams to do battle with this year. "Johnny" Brown, football mentor and former professional football star from Los Angeles, has been handicapped by the loss of ten of his biggest and best men, but is developing the best team possible under the circumstances.

The opening game will be played at Kean Stadium, San Francisco, on Sunday, the 22nd inst., when the Leathernecks clash with the Olympic Club of that city. The prospect of this Olympic clash is well known and the game doubtless will draw thousands who will witness one of the greatest spectacles ever witnessed by the west coast Marines.

The second outside game of the year will be an all-service classic, the first in the history of the west coast service organizations, and is to be played at the Coliseum in Los Angeles between the Marines and the Ninth Corps Area, United States Army, from the Presidio at San Francisco. This game is expected to pack the Coliseum and will open a new era in west coast football, setting a precedent of championship ship service clashes. Advance dope indicates that the two teams will be evenly matched and that the game will be one of the kind you can't see twice.

Other games on the Marines' schedule include a battle with the submarine division, United States Navy, Sunday, October 13; an Armistice Day game with a ship's team at Washington, and this season will be backfield coach for Columbia University, New York. Mike, after coaching things over at Seattle, says that he has the best material he has ever had, but the lack of veterans is a serious handicap to the team's chances.

Coach McEwen, who has been in charge of the Oregon State team for several years, is highly touted for his work with the Webfoot squad. He is said to have the best material he has ever had, but the lack of veterans is a serious handicap to the team's chances.

The Webfoot squad is composed of mostly veterans, which is a great advantage for Coach McEwen. He is said to have the best material he has ever had, but the lack of veterans is a serious handicap to the team's chances.

RULE-MAKING POPULAR
Football Coaches Show Great Form in Altering Regulations in Yearly Confabs

It seems that there were two football coaches, and they once got together and made a rule. After that it became the proper thing to do whenever a couple of football coaches got together. Finally they made so many rules that something had to be done about it, and a committee was appointed to get together annually and make rules. The rules thus made give the coaches something to argue about, and the critics something to yell about.

BY RALPH HUSTON

The recent change in the fumble rule has caused so much comment that almost everybody has overlooked all of the other alterations, operations, and graftings performed on the old code. So even if it is only for a point of information, let's take these things up, one by one, and see what they mean, if any.

STARTING FROM THE LAST IMPORTANT, to the most, Mr. Spaulding informs us: "The try-point after touchdown (Rule 13) is to be made from the 3-yard line instead of the 3-yard line, as formerly. Simple enough. The scoring team, as usual, has a chance to score the extra point, from scrimmage, in one play, by any of the usual methods, except that they are privileged to try it from one yard closer than before.

From Mr. Spaulding again: "Rule XVI, Section 3 (a) has been amended so as to prohibit so-called 'passer' interference beyond the line of scrimmage by players who are ineligible to recover a forward pass. Let's get this all straightened out."

WHICH BRINGS US TO THAT

much-cursed and discussed fumble rule. Actually, it is not a new complete rule, but amended to three different versions. Sec. 13 (d) of Rule VI now reads: "The ball is dead when a backward pass or fumble occurs on the ground and is recovered by an opponent." The former wording was "When a backward pass or fumble occurs on the ground and is recovered by a player of either side."

Secondly, a new section has been added to Rule XIII, which refers to putting the ball in play. The new paragraph states that the ball is in possession of the ball fumbles it and the ball, after striking the ground, is then recovered by an opponent. Under the old rule, it is dead at the point of recovery, and cannot be advanced.

The third change is in Rule XVII, Sec. 1 (b), which now reads: "On a backward pass the ball, if it strikes the ground, is a free ball, but if recovered by the opponents is dead at the point of recovery, and cannot be advanced." The change here is that under the old rule, neither side was permitted to advance the ball.

Fourthly, all this one thing being done, the rule is changed to "after touching the ground." In other words, if a Washington back allows the ball to pop out of his grasp, and an Oregon man recovers before the ball touches the ground, he is permitted to run with it, for the rule is that the ball is dead only after it strikes the ground.

WARNER'S IDEA

The venerable "Pop" Warner, leader of the Stanford Reds, is generally considered to be the funder of the fumble rule, because his charges fumble so frequently. It is conceded that the rule will help any team that goes through a flock of hocus-pocus behind the scrimmage line, where fumbles are all too likely to occur. Had the rule been in effect last season, it would have had not one whiff of bearing on the outcome of Southern California's 10-to-0 victory over Stanford.

NET STARS ON WAY WEST

World's Leading Players Head for Los Angeles and Pacific Southwest Tournament

Just three weeks now and the national and international tennis figures in the persons of William Tilden and the American Cup team, Bunny Austin of England, Tami Abe of Japan and Miss Betty Nuthall and her English Wightman Cup team-mates, will make their appearances at the third annual Pacific Southwest championships on the Los Angeles Tennis Club courts.

On the foreign list H. W. (Bunny) Austin is the top-notch, with James Ollif, also of England; Tami Abe, Japan, and Norman Parkhouse of South Africa completing the international flavor. Austin especially is expected to reach the semifinal or final bracket. He was the sensation at this year's Wimbledon meet, in which he gained the semifinals.

The presence of the English women is in itself enough to stir up additional interest in the women's events. But the youthful Betty Nuthall, rated as the world's biggest world threat for laurels, is expected to steal the show.

Mrs. May Sutton Dixon, Midge Gladman, Mrs. Lawrence Harper and Miss Edith Cross will complete the women's American team. The remaining British stars are Mrs. D. C. Shapard-Barron, Mrs. R. C. Covell, and Mrs. Peggy Bell. Ben Gorchakov, Kietli Gledhill, Gerald Stratford, Oranston Holman, and the rest of the team will be in the line-up.

And the competition will be very keen. Undoubtedly the victor will be the one who has the most skill and the most power.

The Nut Wins Realization

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Over a muddy track The Nut, racing in the silks of the Warm stable and perfectly ridden by the veteran jockey, Mack Garner, scored an impressive victory at Belmont Park today in the Laurence Realization stakes. The Nut picked up 119 pounds, followed the early pace set by Beacon Hill and when ready ran into the lead to win easily. R. T. Wilson's African was second and Harry Payne Whitney's Beacon Hill third. The mile and five furlongs were run in 2:48 3-4.

On the fourteenth and fifteenth holes in the morning, Johnston missed short putts by inches for wins. Both finished the first round in even 50, eight over par, to show the extent of their poor scoring. Johnston redeemed an erratic outward 63 by coming back in 31, only one over par. In fact, "Jimmy" played the last 42 holes of the first round in even 50.

They started shakily again in the afternoon, both taking two shots out of traps on the nineteenth to reach the green, but Johnston got down in 5 to win the hole and square the match. Johnston encouraged Johnston took command of the situation for the first time, as he began to hit his shots with more confidence, boldness and accuracy. He missed a five-foot putt for a win on the twenty-first, but took the lead on the twenty-second for the first time when Willing three-putted. "Jimmy" planked his tee shot in the 190-yard twenty-third hole, on feet from the cup, and was the hole with a 3 after Willing was trapped and exploded to the opposite side of the green.

Aloud by a break, Johnston won his third straight hole and virtually settled the match on the long 500-yard twenty-fourth, which bends around the cliff at the ocean's edge and finishes uphill. Going for the green with his second shot, using a spoon, Johnston half topped the ball and it barely carried over the cup. Johnston missed the hole, but he was a beaten man from then on. Johnston, on most of the holes, was putting for the win while "Doc" was struggling for the hole. On the 110-yard twenty-fifth

Spence, holder of numerous world and national broad-stroke records, scored 17 points at San Francisco to tie for third place with the late L.A.C. diver, Miss McKim. McKim won three first places at Honolulu for a total of 17 points and finished second in the championship women's meet.

Aside from the above stars Wednesday's great meet at the L.A.C. will be won by George Coleman, Johnny Riley and Dutch Smith, national diving champions of the L.A.C.; Frank Walton of Hollywood, A.C. backstroke champion; Austin Clapp of Hollywood, runner-up to Crabbe in The Times swim for men, and many other stars from the L.A.C., Pacific Coast Club and Hollywood A.C.

According to present plans Crabbe will try for the 500-yard record, at present held by Johnny Weissmuller. Weissmuller's long-course 500-yard record is 5m. 47.8-sec. and his short-course record is 5m. 29.2-sec. At San Francisco Crabbe won the 400-yard free-style, half-mile, 300-yard medley, one-mile and third place in the backstroke.

Spence will try for a breaststroke record Wednesday and the distance will probably be 300 yards. Miss McKim will be seen after another one of Martha Norell's records, whom she has displaced as the leading amateur woman swimmer of the world. The races will start at 9 o'clock.

JOHNSTON WINS TITLE

St. Paul Golfer Defeats Willing in Final Match Over Pebble Beach Course

Johnston missed a six-foot putt for a birdie 2 which would have made him 4 up. Willing had to get down in one putt on the twenty-sixth to get a halve. He won back a hole at the twenty-seventh, when Johnston was trapped, but the end was in sight.

Johnston won the twenty-eighth to become 5 up again, when Willing's second shot sliced over the ocean bank.

The doctor made a remarkable recovery with his niblick, reaching the green, but he could not sink a twenty-footer. Both sides took the thirty-first as well as the long thirty-second by brilliant chip shots that enabled him to offset mistakes and get down each time in one putt.

Johnston took command of the situation for the first time, as he began to hit his shots with more confidence, boldness and accuracy. He missed a five-foot putt for a win on the twenty-first, but took the lead on the twenty-second for the first time when Willing three-putted. "Jimmy" planked his tee shot in the 190-yard twenty-third hole, on feet from the cup, and was the hole with a 3 after Willing was trapped and exploded to the opposite side of the green.

Aloud by a break, Johnston won his third straight hole and virtually settled the match on the long 500-yard twenty-fourth, which bends around the cliff at the ocean's edge and finishes uphill. Going for the green with his second shot, using a spoon, Johnston half topped the ball and it barely carried over the cup. Johnston missed the hole, but he was a beaten man from then on. Johnston, on most of the holes, was putting for the win while "Doc" was struggling for the hole. On the 110-yard twenty-fifth

ANGELS AND INDIANS TANGLE IN BARGAIN BILL TOMORROW

By way of celebrating Admission Day, which occurs tomorrow, Jack Leibel's pennant-seeking Seraphs and Ernie Johnson's Seattle Indians will hook up in a double-header at Wrigley Field. The first game will start at 1:30 o'clock. Leibel plans to send Ed Baecht and either Augie Walsh or "Trader" Horns to the mound for the Angels, which means that the Tribe is going to be in for a tough afternoon. The Angels are particularly anxious to cop all the games they can from Seattle, for during the final four weeks of the season they have nothing but tough series, their remaining opposition coming from the Seattle Stars and Oaks. The Seraphs have two series left to play against San Francisco.
